Thread: Option to report thread for "closure"

Ice. - July 31, 2017, 7:25 pm

I always go to report a thread that needs to be closed but there's no relevant report option for it. It would be nice for myself and possibly for those who deal with reports if when they have seen the report it said it needs to be closed and not just an "other" report.

It's a feature for Ub3r members, probably won't happen for all.

I've seen terrible ideas, I've made terrible ideas. This is just another one to the list.

Closing a thread is a feature for l33ts to, however, if reporting a thread for closure is for Ub3rs then I didn't know that.

If a thread needs to be closed it's because it breaks a rule in some way. In most scenarios one of the given options will suffice, but if you're unsure you can report it as "other". When Staff views the report they can easily find out whether or not the thread in question needs to be junked, closed, etc.
