This is multi-threaded. I don't want to say things about Blackshade's and trash his sales, all I know is that you've gotta be one pretty god damn coder to do multi-threading in vb6 so it doesnt eat ur CPU.

Thanks though :)

Hack Pro - July 26, 2010, 3:23 pm

When the source goes public, the binaries will bepublic as well, and binaries can be rev engineered, people will eventually get the encryption method sequence and av will detect.

I do think this looks nice, fix them spelling errors

(Jul 26, 2010 03:20 PM)Talish Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) You gotta learn to read bro, this thing uses codedom with a polymorphic encryption which means the output file is 97% different every time.

It's not 97% unique, probably less than 90%.

Even if it was 97% unique and the stub was 20 kb, there would be over half a KB of non-unique, and virus scanners only need like 100 bytes max to mark it as a virus.

But this seems like a good RAT, you should sell bins.. why waste all that time to sell your source like 5 times max?

The French - July 26, 2010, 3:28 pm

LOOk like very nice , good luck for your sales ;)

1 - nope its not multiple cam and multiple desktop, but some of the tasks you can select x and perform the function and those are specified, including sending messages to all at once, having fun on the fun panel with all of them at once by clickign on "Plague 'em", visiting website with the specified x, and many more :)

2 - ive only tested it on 450 connections, all connecting at once, and they all connected fine, no lag, no connection loss at all, and the program didnt even freeze for a sec. I reckon it can hold 1000+ without anything at all :)

3. and no picture preview for file manager, somehow i doubt that that is any good because that means downloading the files to your computer and showing them which is a waste xD THis file manager shows their extensions and such, thus making everythign that tad bit faster and less prone to connections interruptions :)

So if you don't mind.

Im sorry bro, but no. I promise you that it is not the same as your 1.7, and it's completly differnt in comparison to most .net rats. This more or less started upon a source that drake created i believe, and it taught me about user connections and tcp controls. I assure you this has nothing to do with your source. I downloaded your source a while ago, yet I never managed to understand it, it had 4 or 5 folders, each with different things and I became very confused so I just sent it to recycle bin and deleted :)

I've learnt a lot from some public stuff, such as t0fx's flood methods, yet I've credited them in the source and stated my modifications :)

I do not make profit by taking advantage of others, and I would hate it if someone did it to me.

Pyro plz help me out.

I got some stability problem.. after all my servers now run fine on my homserver and everywhere else (it must have been an error while binding or smth.. did some new servers which worked all fine). BUT:

I see them in my list, for example the webcam remote or the remote desktop.. that works for 5 seconds and then the server crashes. After they re-start the system it's working again for 5 seconds. Tried several different server files. Without binding, with binding, etc.

Tried that on 8 different people now and on 2 pc's in my home network.. all the same result :S

I'm still on msn if u want to talk to me there.

Thanks

I'd rather not provide a trial version, however this RAT is pretty much like most RATs except with the polymorphic technology, and its increased stability.

I will provide a video of it in action then.

I bought Pixelrat this morning after reading all the rep and reviews from the posts here. I don't know what program you guys where using but it was nothing like the RAT I got. Almost nothing works on it for me. I spread the bot to five of my BS and only 2 joined and when i closed and reopened Pixel the two that I had are now gone. When I do have bots the update function does not accept and link at all. It seems to me that there are only two things that do work and that's the Update the NO-IP and creating the RAT. But, that is useless since you dont even get the bots or you lose them when you close pixel. I now understand why he does not give refunds. I do not recommend anyone buy this till there is a update.

of course there are some bugs, but the fact that people are not getting connections is a fault of their own :)

If they have portforwarded correctly, used the correct noip or used their IP, and their router accepts all outoing and incomming connections, I don't see why their servers arent working :/

It's working perfectly, anyone can teamview me for proof. I think the main problem that people are having is when they shut down the program and re open it all of the connections are lost. From what I can tell this isn't a problem with the ports so I'm not really sure what is wrong. Also when you get a chance please send LED the DL link on forums.

why is the sale then closed but the sale of the source opened? :S

dunno i had many rats and they all worked and i was able to set them up correctly (except some other private rat which was pretty buggy). So i dont know what i would do wrong with pixelrat :/

I have asked charixy for help.. maybe he can show me what i did wrong cause i really dont know. did the same setup with pixelrat as i did with other rats.

Sale for binaries is closed so I can concentrate more on the update instead of needing to concentrating on supporting more people with their rats, payments and etc.

Sale for source is open because I don't need to offer such great support on it.

of course if it crashes then it will not be able to connect because it is not running anymore :/ but I will try to implement a failsafe for that.

also please read that if ur using a noip with "noip.biz" in it, i recomend u change it to something else to liek .zapto.org ye i use zapto now.. before i used serverhttp.com (shouldnt that be fine too?)

well the thing is that it crashes very often.. nearly everytime i do remote desktop/webcam or filesearch it crashes. Such a failsafe would be nice :)

and i also think that "obsfucate" corrupts the server.exe soehow.. i had like 10 people installing it yesterday and only one showed up for 1 second.

i belive there are just some little bugs which have to be fixed. then its one of the best rats out there :P

The rat is workign fine, you may view me on teamviewer for proof. If you cannot get it to work its wrong. Nothign will ever be bug free, and the fact that the bug didn't come up when i was testing it leaves me no choice but to think its working. Im workign on it as much as I can, and trying my best.

As clearly stated, I am not offering a refund, you will just continue to receive the updates I am able to manage. However I can provide a partial refund of $5 for those who can show that there is a problem in connections and they cannot receive the connections.

I am trying to do my best in fixing the bug, however there is only such an amount that a person can do. So please, if you want help, then you will need to help me by not shouting at it for having a bug in it, but allowing me time to do it. I tried my best, 3 months of work has gone into it, and thus I have exhausted myself. I am constantly testing for bugs, fixing and etc, but as i said, there is so much a person can do. I should have an update on a new remote desktop which is sizeable by today. Also, people won't connect to you if their computers are switched off or etc, so you must understand that.

As i said in the support forum already. I belive there some bugs which have to be fixed.. and i belive you will do that as good as you can. So i expect a good working rat soon. Ofc i never bought installs or such things without testing it and knowing that it works.. thats the customers own fault if he does so.

I will do a quick tutorial on how to set up that right if that is fine for you Pyro?

I also talked with Charixy.. its strange that for you the rat works perfectly and it seems as aadster can get it work fine too.. but for me and charixy (and obviously lot of other people.. dunnow if they set up the rat correctly or not tho) it doesnt work fine. Bugs which have to be fixed :)

For the refunds: I can totally understand that there wont be any refunds.. aslong as you promise what you offer. Which was a stable rat which is fud for a long time, with alot of support & lifetime. I´m not saying that a totally new rat should be flawless and i´m also not saying that it has to be after tonights update :P But if there is a month of updates and working and it still doesnt work for 90% of people, then i would find it kinda retarded tbh.

I´m looking forward on this :)

As far as i know, the rat works fine for me, and i can close my client, rreopen it, listen and and my server connects. If i had a 100pcs, and i would recieve the error, it would obviously help me. However, as far as i can do anything, and i can even prove it, servers connect back, unless your victims are deleting processes and etc. This rat wasnt coded by the best coder in the world, it wass done in VS, in vb.net by a single coder and obviously its not goign to be the best. i wrote out on the poster all it does and etc, yet in the TOS it explicitly states i am not responsible for the innacuracy of the information. Thing is, i didnt use this to my advantage and advertise false facts, I can prove to you that that everythign stated on the ad works on my client, which is the same as your client. Therefore this shows that there is a problem on your behalf or the client is buggy and doesnt like beginners. i stated clearly that the RAT ISNT for beginners. yet you all here are throwing complaints at me. You had the money to buy the rat, you looked around for the ones you liked best and you came to me, I did not make that decision. If you've made the wrong decision and bought something that doesnt suit you, its not my problem. I am tryign my best to get everythign fixed aas well as takign in suggestions, yet if you expect updates within a 1 hour period, I am sorry but its not possible.

Also, this is the first release, OF COURSE ITS GOING TO HAVE SOME MAJOR PROBLEMS IN IT, and thus you should have anticipated when buying OBVIOUSLY. any sane person would know to keep a backup for intalls when testing this RAT, thats why i explicitly said in the TOS that I am not liable for any losses created by this program.

Please, let me try my best with this. I have a torn muscle in my back and a migrane which affects me really bad, yet im stil trying my best. This RAT is does what it is supposed to, the servers connect back and allow you to monitor them (with their permission of cours) and maybe it isn't user friendly and such, however you should have thought about that when you have bought it.

With my strained back, I am nearly unable to sit properly without requiring to have it attented every so often, and it makes everything much, much harder. I am tryign my best, and trying not to fail. Sorry for all the inconvenience.

Albertino - July 29, 2010, 11:57 am

Ever single RAT have its problems, for me took about 3 months to fix bugs for v.2, and still there is always some ppl who will have some issues, because every PC is different.

When coder write the program he mostly test it on his PC which have all necessary dll's and etc, but when it comes to customers there might be few problems.

To write a RAT from a scratch its not easy task even for professional coders, managing sockets its pain in the ass, specially when its managed code.

Thank you albertino, everyone should understand that when testing, you cannot test on all teh different PCs, of course there are bugs going to be encountered. people have differnt pcs differnt routers, diffrent configurations. If this RAT isn;t for you, it isn't my problem. You should have asked to see its functionaility and such before buying. Eeverything on the poster is workign on my computer and my systems, and thus i can claim it is working. If it isn't workign for you, then its unfortunate, and it was out of my control. I am not obliged to give a a trial of it or anything, it is ur responsibilty to see if you will meet the requirements and such and request. However you buy it blindly and then when it doesnt work as well you throw complaints. Howe ignorant, yet i still strive to offer you 1 on 1 support over teamviewer and helping you as much as possible. It has become hell, but I'm not goign to give up and try my best.

Your servers connect to you, you can do several functions. Thats the golden standard for a new beginning RAT. Unsatisfied? There were a variety of choices, Eerebus, Blackshades, Albertinos, jRAT, Medusa and more. Why make a decision, and then blame me for it.

zakazak - July 29, 2010, 12:27 pm

Well calm down. First of all i said that its normal that a new rat will hav various bugs. Although i honestly have to say that i belived to buy a more stable rat without a real majour bug. But as albertino said.. every pc is different and it will need some time to fix bugs. Thats what i'm saying. I wont call for a refund and i think there shouldnt be a refund.. but if there isnt any solution in some time (i mean if 90% of the people are still unable to use that rat in one month) then i'm kinda dissapointed.

At the time when i bought the rat there wasnt anything with "no refunds" but i'm not really complaining about that one nor i'm complaining about the bugs since i will give it some time. So i'm looking forward on this and dont cry around yet (i know that others are who cant stop complaining and are even too dump to setup the rat).

But comparing your rat with albertino or blackshades isnt fair too. It is not fair because they clearly dont have such a major bug in stability and it isnt fair because these rats exist for a long time already and had enough time to fix such bugs. So saying that we could have decide between yours and others would only be fair if you would tell customers that this is a new rat which could be kinda buggy ,etc .. but you couldnt know that these bugs exist and other people who buy this rat should think about it and find out their own that a new rat might come with bugs.

Aslong as there will be an update which fixes this major bug(s) and makes it usable for all users (or atleast more than yourself and a hand of users) i wont complain at all. Just as albertino said.. it needs time to develop. Propably a beta time for some special people which you trust would be way smarter too.. for you and for your customers which are maybe now not satisfied with it. And it seems as we will have such an update :)

Everyone, try to do it without install/obfus/antis and see what it is like. Also remmeber, if their servers crash or etc dont expect it to come back, how can it come back if its crashed and closed >.<

and about the no refunds thing, it was always in TOS and in the FAQ. TOS was accepted by everyone

zakazak - July 29, 2010, 12:52 pm

I also tested it with charixy today on TV, it works fine but on most actions the server crashes and then it wont come online again (not even if its installed and the guy reboots).

And on most people the restart of the client will still show the connection.. but i had like 10 people yesterday which didnt show up or have only been online for 2-5 seconds.

Will be online at msn in some minutes

@edit: i just did it with my homeserver.. after re-start no connection anymore just letting you guys know, the next official update will happen at 21:00 GMT, and has the following:

- major bug fixes including the one for reconnection
- pop out window for remote desktop and webcam viewer which is resizable :D
- Refresh connection (if a server is being awkward or w.e, right click the connection, click refresh and it will disconnect and reconnect :D)
- centred all windows
- more bug fixes in the changelog :)

ive been off for most of the day, whats your msn?

L?mon - July 30, 2010, 12:15 pm

You haven't been on for a couple days for me and its drunken_panda@live.com. Just noticed im L33T now :O

Modesty - July 30, 2010, 1:15 pm

New update people, post here if your a customer to get it!#

Also, a quick recovery of bots that you may have lost is if you reopen the client, adn are getting no connections then wait for 10 minutes or so, if still no reopen client and listen and it should work :)

-na.Talish - August 1, 2010, 6:21 am

Can't wait for the update, good luck selling dude.

I am currently coding Lol, hence why i havnt been on msn, ive seen your thread on the support forum, and im veruy grateful and am using it to try and fix the bugs :) Creating thenew update atm, and it will be released in a while. The reconnection problem will be looked over (obviously, it is the major problem), and a handful of new features will be incorporated.

Thanks for the patience zakzak, thankyou for all the other pixelrat customers contributing to the development and fuck you cyphex for scamming me :)

VipeX - August 1, 2010, 2:58 pm

PYRO! I need to speak to you damnit =)

This is still up for sale btw, people are missing this thread!!

VipeX - August 3, 2010, 3:10 am

BUMP! Sales are still open!

This RAT is Awesome!

Modesty - August 3, 2010, 4:10 am

For all sales, please contact VipeX either via PM or msn.
You can trust him, he is an official partner.

AcID © - August 3, 2010, 4:22 am

Why cant we contact you for sales o.O

Arete - August 3, 2010, 4:24 am

Woah man,

It's like everything you need in one.

I wish I had the money.

Because vipex is currently takign the sales while I am continuing the development/programming the RAT :)

VipeX - August 3, 2010, 5:02 am

Yep! Contact me via PM, if im online or at MSN at Vipex@live.no

-na.Talish - August 3, 2010, 8:55 am

You might wanna make sure VipeX has a verified paypal, if you haven't already.

VipeX - August 3, 2010, 11:10 am

I DO Have a verified paypal, => So it's totally trusted.

All customers of pixelrat who have signed up on the forum have been sent the following email:
Hey guys!

I am currently creating the next update for PixelRAT which will make it to 1.8 :)

I am currently recoding the whole reconnection system so if any of you lost bots before, you shouldn't anymore!

Also:

- Password gathering should be working for all systems where your server is installed.
- The RAT will remmber your installed systems, and if they are not online it will keep them there yet fade them out to prevent confusing between a reconnection and a new connection
- More options to the miscellaneous/fun panel!

Also I'd like to ask if there is any user here who would like the normal windows-style GUI instead of a Dark GUI?

Emails back will be highly appreciated, or post in the forum!

Hope you're having a great summer!

Thanks,

PixelFRAG / P Y R O

If you aren't on the forum, I suggest you sign up so I can keep contact.

nice to hear that.. was already starting to regret this buy :P

the fading part is nice.. and the file explorer would be way more usefull than the filesearcher (actually a file browser with a searched included would be awesome)

for the gui: i dont care

Lol I can understand that there may be some bugs here and there, espeically for the fact that pixelRAT has only been out for a week and a half. As albertino said, it took him 3 months after sale for all connection problems to be sorted.

However i think i just finished the core of the reconnection system, and it looks to be working fine D:

zakazak - August 3, 2010, 11:28 am

Ye i know that this will need some development and time.. i only hope this project will live long enough :)

good ! excited

VipeX - August 3, 2010, 12:10 pm

Hehe, it works 99,8% perfect for me now!

VipeX - August 3, 2010, 8:42 pm

Bump this stuff! it never makes it up to the top section :S

VipeX - August 4, 2010, 4:08 pm

Im not sure about this, but i guess im able to bump about every 24 Hours?..

fragster22 - August 5, 2010, 4:38 am

When i get the money ill buy for sure :P :D

zakazak - August 5, 2010, 12:21 pm

lolol some secret ghost whispered me that a big update is comming tomorrow !

Modesty - August 5, 2010, 4:25 pm

New version will be out tommorow people :)

New connection methods implemented, major bugs such as reconnection and password stealer fixed and more features implemented ;) you'll find out more tommorow
