Thread: Is this the right place to sell IG accounts?

SecureX - August 2, 2017, 7:39 pm

Hello HackForums,

I am here today by Google search. I am just browsing the site, it seems like my kind of place lolol.

If I gain reputation on this forum, is it possible to sell bulk IG accounts? I am harvesting about 500 accounts that have roughly 70-100k averaged. Of course, it's a mixture of inactive followers from a private exploit.

Is this a place that accepts the business?

Thanks guys.

You're going to need to make a sales thread here: Member Sales Market

WHATEVER YOU DO THOUGH...never post something for sale in the lounge or outside of that forum. I've been banned multiple times because of it.

I see, honestly, how do you gain rep to sell in it though?

I totally understand, I'm just seeing if it was actually allowed, and how to actually get started. I'm pretty introverted so I don't know how to gain rep or properly start anything.

Just a guy with a dream and a computer.

Just be HQ and interact with people. Make some jokes and just be a good member. The more people like you the more rep you will get.

If your service is good your rep will be good also :)

I see, interesting, I'll keep that in mind. :)

This is definitely the right place for that. In fact, I'm interested in purchasing mass amounts of IG accounts. Contact me on <https://#/pizzafox>

Just a guy with a dream and a computer. Just post a lot. By being an active member, other members will see your post and decide if your thread/post was so funny/helpful that they will leave reputation on your page.

Also, never ask for rep. There's a 100% chance a bunch of people will neg rep you and you won't be able to recover from that.
