Right now for treasure hunter, as long as you use your daily free keys, you can get a free spring cleaner and a free set of silverhawk boots. Promotion is going for a few days but spring prices are gonna skyrocket. So the sooner, the better ?

Thank you for the heads up, I'm sure everyone around here knows already though. Silverhawk feathers and springs seem like a good flipping opportunity though.

Can you guys translate this as if I was playing a 10 years older version of the game? ?

Is this something I should get in on even if I don't play rs3?

Both are pay to win items basically. Silverhawk boots for expensive Agility training. Spring cleaner for Invention; Specifically breaking down items.

So no.
