Hello everyone, I have been on this forum for a fairly long time, I made an account before this one, but I forgot the details and just moved on. First of all, I would like to thank everyone for creating and maintaining such a fun community.

Now on to the service that I am offering, send me a PM about how you feel, and why you feel down, and I will do my best to tell you what you can do to try and make yourself feel better.

There are no requirements for this service, except for one.

No trolling, I really want to help some people out that do not have the time or money to actually see someone for it.

I would not say that I have had the worst experiences, but I would say that I have gone through enough that I could understand more than the average person. If you feel like no one will listen to you, I would be glad to hear your story and talk about it, just send me a PM and I will get back to you when I can.

All I ask is that you don't troll, and that you do not leave comments directly in this thread, as it is best not to reveal some things being talked about.

I would also like to say that I am by no means a professional, and getting professional help is sometimes needed.

At first, I thought this was a troll post but I came to reading in a deeper meaning and seeing that you are just trying to help people out in the long run. I appreciate what you are doing for this community and keep it up.
