Thread: Why I absolutely love blockchain technology

GodlessOlympian - August 5, 2017, 10:21 am

Hey HF, I'm not sure how well endowed you guy all are with how amazing blockchain technology is. I mean, I know this section is full of blockchain advocates but here's a video giving you a quick scope as to what blockchain offers the world.

I haven't been this enthusiastic about a technology since the development of a quantum computer.

I want to hear what you love best about blockchain technology!

I've been looking for a video like this. I love to see where blockchains are being used other than coins

I love crypto currency so much, I just got my bitcoin debit card and love it

It's a very good video share. I think I'll save that video for future reference and sending to friends/family.

Good video, thanks for sharing

I think that crypto currencies all around are fantastic applications of mathematics. DAGs and blockchain technology are both things that can be applied to anything in our lives.

I actually had homework regarding the blockchain. Saw how blockchain will used in various industries

I bought the bitpay card, only one I think that can be used in NY. I believe.

Works very nice, I have like 10 transactions already

Thanks for this video share. I'll definitely be saving this.

nice video, I was very enthusiastic when i heard for the first time of blockchain, it was just revolutionary, we must all get on satoshis knees for his oeuvre.

I feel like this thread has been undervalued so I'm bumping it and reminding you all to share this video with your family, friends, and community as best as you can. People are still calling bitcoins worthless because it doesn't offer anything. Educate them. Help them get their heads out of their asses. :)

I hope blockchain technology will be the beginning of the end of super-huge centralised companies which acts as middleman to every human activity. Maybe in the peer to peer world, we can trust one another based on blockchain. May turn out better than trusting a brand for our day today needs.

I find analogy to how wikipedia became a trusted entity despite not from a strictly centralized org.

Nice. I wonder what the future will look like in the next 5-10 years.

I find analogy to how wikipedia became a trusted entity despite not from a strictly centralized org. Actually, I never thought about wiki as a good analogy. It never came to mind but you are 100% correct. Wiki is regulated by outside peers and fixed accordingly to provide the most accurate information possible.

I also hope that with blockchain technology we will be able to have more transparent companies and reduce the act of bribery and laundering within major corporations/government.

I think blockchain will be a crucial trust building platform for all.

If all goes right, then hopefully flying around in space cars with credits like a developing star wars-esque civilization.
