Thread: Favorite Food Show?

I know this should probably be in the movies/TV show section, but I feel like it is more relevant here.

My favorite is Chopped or Diners, Dine-Ins and Dives.

How about you?

The Pizza show on Viceland because I like learning the history about places and, well, because I love pizza.

All of Gordon Ramsays TV shows are really great entertainment. I've learned a few great recipes by following him and have had countless other laughs.

Yeah No Reservations is the Anthony Bourdain show, like that one a lot as well.

If they count, definitely Peaceful Cuisine and Jun's Kitchen on YouTube.

Cutthroat Kitchen is pretty great. They use shitty ingredients and weird challenges to fuck up their opponents. It's a bidding war.

Oh and anything made by Chef Gordon Ramsay, preferably if it's from the UK because of the lack of shitty dramatic soundtracks.

I certainly have to agree with you there.

Absolutely love his recipes.

Sushi is where its at, or a nice fat cob loaf with lots of melted cheese.

Foodnetwork, proably bizzare foods lot of weird shit on that show.

My favorite food show used to be Masterchef, but I also really like Matilda and the Ramsay bunch. I think it's a very fun show for kids.
