$100 to ban a rando on twitch is quite the price, since we can't do partners

Interesting though, I'd love to be added to the whitelist of "DO NOT BAN" i would say the ban service is more for people that want a og name like example: samurai if someone was close to partner or had a partner account they could snag this name when banned or if you just hate the guy i guess ?

Are you able to take names that got banned?

I know for a fact you have to wait a year for the account to become 'inactive' with 12 months of no login or viewing activity for normal accounts.

So are you saying you'll get any OG username for $100 that isn't a partnered account?

He'll get the account banned, and if you're a partner or a partner-to-be you'll be able to acquire the banned person's name.
