

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: [\[Rate\] Thread Design - Income Layer](#)

M?xim - August 10, 2017, 12:54 pm

One thread design a month keeps the doctors away. No but seriously, used to run a service not so long time ago and now am doing like a thread design per month.

Feel free to let me know what you would have done different. The guy who ordered it seemed happy with it and is using it atm.

New-ish version - Will make another version once I find more time. Will work after the feedback i got: \(Click to View\)

Finn. - August 10, 2017, 1:28 pm

Overall it's pretty dope, but I think that this part doesn't fit in:

Place them under the prices with blue logos that would look a lot better.

SIM-2875347 - August 10, 2017, 1:31 pm

(Aug 10, 2017 01:28 PM)Finn. Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Overall it's pretty dope, but I think that this part doesn't fit in:

That's exactly what I was going to say, it should be centered a bit better in that section. Also perhaps change it from white to a color that matches better.

Looks pretty nice otherwise, the animated top text is a nice touch.

M?xim - August 10, 2017, 1:33 pm

(Aug 10, 2017 01:28 PM)Finn. Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Overall it's pretty dope, but I think that this part doesn't fit in:

-

Place them under the prices with blue logos that would look a lot better.

I agree, now when you say it. It doesn't feel like it's a part of the thread design. Thanks, will move it to where Buildoman recommended.

Intern - August 10, 2017, 10:46 pm

Great stuff Maxim,

The only issue I find with this currently is maybe the speed of the intro :o - and just that little thing everyone mentioned above :)

Best,

AvessoVision - August 11, 2017, 1:20 am

I'm a fan of animated elements on websites, such as buttons that move, shift, image panels that rotate and all those things that makes the user have a smooth experience.

Although this being a thread design and obviously not having full control over the elements engaged into animations, I feel like they don't let me focus on a subject due to the fading/repeating effect. If only you had full control over it.

I would've made a hover over the icons with a sleek dropdown on it. But since it's nothing more but a gif/thread presentation, I feel that being static would look better, but that's just me. If the client is satisfied that's all that matters.

Nonetheless the whole design is minimalistic and semi-flat which I really like. Great main color pick. Although there's a really low opacity background with dollar bills in there that you can barely notice and it looks more like a grunge texture of some sorts.

You should definitely pump out more of these and not once a month. You can improve by a lot if you love doing it.

SkullTraill - August 11, 2017, 5:03 am

Nice, timeless design.

The only things I can think to suggest are add some easing/animation beziers to the bouncing animation to make it look smoother/more organic (if you did the animations in After Effects, which I would infinitely recommend over photoshop).

Also I feel like the kerning and general typography (the spacing, fonts, and font size variations) could be improved on a little bit. However I'm not an expert on that so I can't give exact advice, except for one thing. It seems like on the first block of text (the animated one) you've set the font to justified. I'd only recommend using justified text in large paragraphs/blocks of text. For a small block of text, the variations in spaces between words can look a little weird.

Also try incorporating some subtle patterns/textures. IDK about you but they give me a hard on :D

SalesScape - August 12, 2017, 12:52 pm

What software did you make this with ?

Bet it took a while to do the animations :D very decent dude i like alot

How much do you charge for these? reckon you could get 50$ easy to the right people

M?xim - August 12, 2017, 12:54 pm

Lots of awesome feedback, i appreciate it a lot and will make edits accordingly. Will reply later!

Didn't expect it, at all.

<3

Changement - August 12, 2017, 5:20 pm

It looks good my friend! I wish i would learn how to do thread designs aswell haha.
Grymt jobbat!

Riyu - August 12, 2017, 5:21 pm

Oh, look the thread design you made me lol.

Thanks, Maxim.

VirtualVendag - August 13, 2017, 7:39 am

Really cool thread design, 10/10

Sikes - August 13, 2017, 7:56 am

everything looks really good other than the payment methods

1MPERATOR - August 13, 2017, 7:57 am

Those 4 paymentmethods (paypal etc.) .. sorry.. ugly as fuck..

Everything else is sick

M?xim - August 13, 2017, 9:30 am

(Aug 10, 2017 10:46 PM)Intern Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Great stuff Maxim,

The only issue I find with this currently is maybe the speed of the intro :o - and just that little thing everyone mentioned above :)

Best,

Yeah i decided to change it now to something smoother. I felt that it was too distracting. Thanks!

(Aug 11, 2017 01:20 AM)AvessoVision Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I'm a fan of animated elements on websites, such as buttons that move, shift, image panels that rotate and all those things that makes the user have a smooth experience.

Although this being a thread design and obviously not having full control over the elements engaged into animations, I feel like they don't let me focus on a subject due to the fading/repeating effect. If only you had full control over it.

I would've made a hover over the icons with a sleek dropdown on it. But since it's nothing more but a gif/thread presentation, I feel that being static would look better, but that's just me. If the client is satisfied that's all that matters.

Nonetheless the whole design is minimalistic and semi-flat which I really like. Great main color pick. Although there's a really low opacity background with dollar bills in there that you can barely notice and it looks more like a grunge texture of some sorts.

You should definitely pump out more of these and not once a month. You can improve by a lot if you love doing it.

I agree, would love to have more control over the animations.

Will try to look into the low-opacity background. Might change it entirely. But thanks Avesso, really great feedback.

(Aug 11, 2017 05:03 AM)SkullTraill Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Nice, timeless design.

The only things I can think to suggest are add some easing/animation beziers to the bouncing animation to make it look smoother/more organic (if you did the animations in After Effects, which I would infinitely recommend over photoshop).

Also I feel like the kerning and general typography (the spacing, fonts, and font size variations) could be improved on a little bit. However I'm not an expert on that so I can't give exact advice, except for one thing. It seems like on the first block of text (the animated one) you've set the font to justified. I'd only recommend using justified text in large paragraphs/blocks of text. For a small block of text, the variations in spaces between words can look a little weird.

Also try incorporating some subtle patterns/textures. IDK about you but they give me a hard on :D I fixed the justified part now, looks better, indeed.

Yeah I agree that the spacing, fonts and size variations could be improved a bit, I guess that it has to do with me lacking some basics when it comes to graphics design.

Will see what I can find with patterns, i love them as well. SoldierX is particularly good with patterns and such.

Thanks <3

(Aug 12, 2017 12:52 PM)SalesScape Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) What software did you make this with ?

Bet it took a while to do the animations :D very decent dude i like alot

How much do you charge for these? reckon you could get 50$ easy to the right people Photoshop combined with After Effects (for the animations).

How much i charge varies.

(Aug 12, 2017 05:20 PM)Changement Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) It looks good my friend! I wish i would learn how to do thread designs aswell haha.

Grymt jobbat!

Haha but you know dem animations. I would love to see a thread design from you, I can't imagine how it would looks with your skills. Let me know if you ever make one. ?

(Aug 13, 2017 07:56 AM)Sikes Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) everything looks really good other than the payment methods

Fixed! Thanks. And I agree, those payment methods. Bad spot. I wiped them off the surface.

(Aug 13, 2017 07:57 AM)1EMPERATOR Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Those 4 paymentmethods (paypal etc.) .. sorry.. ugly as fuck..

Everything else is sick

Done deal, as i said above. Agreed.

New version-ish (will work more after the feedback i received once i find a minute <3):

Spoiler \(Click to View\)