This feature apparently has existed for quite a while but I've never heard of it before. I obviously don't have to explain why this is great for people like me that only have 1 cable coming to their room since the modem is so far away.

Quick tutorial:

Open your settings:

Choose Network & Internet:

Choose Mobile Hotspot & You can figure out the rest yourself:

I had no idea this was a thing.

Thanks for sharing this!

It's WiFi. It uses your wireless adapter. If you can connect to WiFi, you can rebroadcast it as well provided your hardware isn't awful.
