Thread: Bustabit profitable?

I am not sure If I am posting in right section but whatever. I was wondering if It's possible to profit small amounts on BaB per day (for instance, $10). Of course with smart playing, for example going in with $5 and cashing out at 1.2x after red train or something.

99% luck, 1% skill; simple as that.

You may make bank one day, then lose it the next.

It's gambling regardless of what anyone says.

Yes it can be profitable but you need to know the pattern.

You are still gambling OP so a 1.2 bid can still crash at 0/1 or 1.01-1,19 ;)

In the time you were gambling you could prob make that money by just a job. Unless you go all in.

There's no such thing as "smart playing". You will lose in the end.

But to answer you question, I'd say yes, Bustabit is a very good chance to win money, due to the low house edge, but it's equally easy to lose it all.

Gamble for fun, not to "earn" money.. Because you will only end up losing it it's all about your luck bro, but wish you a Good Luck for it

In the time you were gambling you could prob make that money by just a job. Unless you go all in. It can of course crash at 0 or 1.01-1.19x, but I meant going in after red train and doing minimal amount of bids. Or maybe doing $10 at 1.1x for 10 times, but not straight, but balanced over day. Also job isn't an option for me.

BustaBit isn't a guarantee as everyone mentioned. If you're looking to earn daily, I wouldn't go the gambling route, at least not BustaBit gambling.

NurSpec - August 12, 2017, 7:29 am

It will reel you in and then you're fucked.

HuntedCS - August 12, 2017, 10:06 am

Bustabit has a nice psychological advantage, they suck you in, just to make you lose everything you have.

Nuclear Fallout - August 12, 2017, 10:10 am

Don't gamble money you can't lose. Learned that the hard way last year.

Would never play it with under 30k bits (which is more than 100$ now due to btc being so damn high)

ANY TYPE OF GAMBLING favors the house. Why the FUUCK would someone invest so much into a platform only to allow users to take their money. There's always a catch

Fortunate - August 12, 2017, 10:15 am

Are odds profitable, yes.

The most "profitable" method would be just plain martingale, it's gambling dummy.

Danktober - August 12, 2017, 10:16 am

Its literally all about luck. Last Christmas I flipped $20 into $800 just by putting the bet on 2x constantly.

If I flip a (fair) coin and it lands on heads, when I pick it up and flip it again, what's the probability of it landing on heads again? If you said anything other than 0.5/a half/50%/whatever, you need to go back to your Statistics 1 class.

Just because you've hit a few reds in a row, that doesn't mean the next one you're going to hit is more likely to be a green. In the end you are always playing against the house edge, and in the end you will always lose.

Something you should probably read.

Of course it's okay to play just for fun.

No, you will get sucked in and never wanna leave. Leave before you have the chance
