Merged accounts can not be reinstated. You have to start from fresh again.

Also, don't buy Uber or leet thinking your account will be safe. Back in the days, your account was indeed safe but now-a-days your account gets deleted if you don't log in enough.

So if you, for example take a year long trip around the world you can say goodbye to your old account.

Nothing they can do about it, sorry. ?

Memory serves Omniscient did away with the 1 year inactive closures.

I'd have to search for the thread but I remember seeing it.

Oddly enough my old account which was upgraded has been closed. Such a nice surprise to get when you come back :).

I stand corrected. Thank you for providing us with the latest information!

But regular accounts are still capable of being closed when you're not being active enough though:

Or maybe the help documentation hasn't been updated yet.
