Thread: Is dropshipping dead?

VouchPotato™ - August 17, 2017, 11:47 am

Is dropshipping dead or are the niches simply getting more and more complex?

EDIT: Legit dropshipping, not blackhat.

Depends on who I ask. I personally know people doing $10000/day and others struggling to get a positive ROI on their ads.

Can anyone PM me and explain to me what dropshipping is?

Plenty of people still dropship. It is by no means 'dead'.

I've always wondered whether I can use such a middleman for Amazon?

I live in Greece and most offers I find on Amazon won't ship here.

Just target USA or something?

You don't have to target local lol

You get it sent directly from supplier to customer, so you can target anywhere that they will ship :D

Can someone really PM me and maybe work together with me i have 100euros available for investment, so maybe we can work something out ama - August 17, 2017, 5:50 pm

No drop-shipping isn't dead.

Just need to know what you're doing.

You should try the Partnerships section located here - Jobs and Partnerships - you might have more luck with your request there.
