So I just scrolling via the helpdesk at the top and I noticed this rule regarding rep:

"Someone called me a scammer in reputation, what do I do?

Calling someone a scammer without a link to the scam report in the reputation will result in the reputation being removed. However, if there is a link to a Deal Dispute thread they've created then Staff does not investigate these claims nor make it definitive whether the scam report is legitimate or not. "

Wasnt this rule changed and you can only leave a rep calling someone a scammer if you actually made the thread?

Link to the thread that makes me question the following statement

Right, you must be the author of the Deal Dispute in order to leave a valid scammer reputation.

You can read mroe about reputation here: <https://hackforums.net/misc.php?action=help&hid=20>
