Thread: Why are Japanese girls more attractive then other girls?

70s - August 20, 2017, 2:48 am

I just cant figure it out does anyone have a good answer as to why this race has some of the cutest girls ever?

test - August 20, 2017, 2:50 am

Because they're your personal preference. I personally find most Asian women more attractive too.

Good question. The answer is evolution. We, as a species, want to continue living and grow in number. If humans didn't have this urge, we would be gone long time ago. This also happens on animals. (Fun fact : some animals don't even feel pleasure when they have sex).

About the OP's question, my theory is that we feel more attracted by the asian girls because they look more different than us, but at the same time, so similar.

(Men's are always trying to find different partners. Look into most of the couples and you will see they have a very different personality).
