Thread: Is it illegal to surf on site with illegal content

Hellowbuddy - August 20, 2017, 5:24 am

Hey guys,
i wonder if it illegal to surf on a site with illegal content?

example:

i surf on a site with videos and watch some videos that are legal or just not absolutely illegal.
And on this site are many videos that are absolutely illegal, but i dont click/watch them, can i get in trouble?

I mean if the site owner allows that illegal content, but i dont watch it, is it okay?

Hope u understand what i mean ?

greez

judging you so hard rn

OT: If you aren't watching the illegal content on the site, then it's probably a good idea to find a site without the illegal shit lol

but then again, this could relate to HF in a way :P

What kind of site are you on, the only thing that springs to mind is an adult content site with some dodgy stuff, if this is the case I definitely wouldn't risk it.

imnotadog - August 21, 2017, 9:05 am

As long as your not looking at cp and arent doing anything illegal yourself just use a vpn and tor and youll be fine if you are that worried about it

Siplex - August 21, 2017, 9:08 am

If you get paranoid, just use a non logging VPN to be sure that no one can make problems for you.

Hellowbuddy - August 21, 2017, 9:08 am

Why everyone's kidding me?

Thanks to all who answered serious
