Thread: Looking for a skilled Web Developer \(Joint Venture, 6 Figure Project\)

iSki - August 22, 2017, 8:08 am

If you're looking for a one time gig that'll make you a few hundred dollars, this isn't the one for you. This is a joint venture, something that has the potential to pull in roughly 6 figures a year AND MORE, depending on your activity and effort.

And for those that question my credibility, been a member on this website for multiple years, have made a killing for YEARS in the CPA world, and continually pull in revenue from my affiliate marketing ventures. This being one of the biggest ones I'd partner up on.

What this is:

A joint Venture/Partnership

An opportunity to learn more about Affiliate Marketing

A chance to earn more than 6 figures a year (Depending on your effort)

What this isn't:

A temporary project

Way to make a quick buck

Effortless

PS: American coders PREFERRED.
