Hey guys, trying to get back into graphic design, this was the first idea I had, I've seen a lot of these about and wanted to try it out for myself. Rate and CC please ?

Edit: less monotone

You have to change the http to and https in the image link or it wont load correctly. And looks pretty good, I dont love the kinda basic gradient background though. I think you could do more with that but the rest looks nice.

Thanks man, I see what you mean, it was difficult to make it look right good without being too bland/monotone, definitely some rust in that area I need to work on. ?

I love it, but i think on " The Lion ... " text it seem like you put stoke border on it

Let's be realistic now... the only Lions that are coming are Chelsea.

It looks great, especially for a beginner too. Keep it up and you will improve in no time!

One of the most high quality pictures I've ever seen ?

Great job.

Loving the color correction.
