Thread: Selling Email Spoofing Software

Virtual_Particle - August 24, 2017, 12:16 am

Hey Everyone!

I got this software from a very reliable friend of mine and tested it quite a bit. It works really well. For those of you who are new to all this, an email spoofer does exactly what it says: it sends an email from your email account to your target but lets you edit who it appears to be coming from. It should also be noted that this email spoofer does not get sent to spam and the replies do get sent back to you, not the spoofed address. Like every other program in the world there are a few down sides which I will be completely honest about. First off, the software only works with gmail accounts. I'm working on editing this but for now it will have to do. Second, with any email spoofer, it is always possible to find the real sending address and IP. Always use a vpn while using this software.

All in all, it works extremely well while e-whoring, phishing, spamming, and spear-phishing. I use this program often and have yet to find any sort of virus installed. The download link will require the encryption key from me. Email me if interested. Purchase methods include BTC, LTC, ETH, and Amazon gift cards. Paypal may be accepted if you are reliable.
