Thread: Uncle just had an accident, critical condition

STANDARD - August 24, 2017, 10:10 am

I don't have many friends and I doubt many here would care, but please keep my uncle in your thoughts. Just got the message that he had a massive blood leak in his brain because a vessel bursted and he doesn't have long to live, he's on life support.

Never thought i'd be so rattled by something like this, literally saw him 2 days ago at a wedding he was standing by himself the whole time opening the gate for others. Please try not to troll and if you do shame on you. Thank you to anyone who reads this, HF is the only outlet I have to let out my thoughts.

EDIT: He's got no chance, doctors said. Wow.

That sucks man, hopefully he makes it.

RRRaptor - August 24, 2017, 10:11 am

I hope for the best my man. Must completely fucking suck, but I pray he gets through it.

Hope he gets better. Best wishes.

Kezmate - August 24, 2017, 10:20 am

My thoughts go out to you, I'm sorry to hear about this. Ignore that twat, there are people on here that care and we're here to listen. I wish you and your family all the best through this, I really do.

You need to fuck right off. Like are you defected mentally?

RUMRUN - August 24, 2017, 10:24 am

I swear it's that 1 BTC guy who created a new account.

Exiled soon

bk randy - August 24, 2017, 10:28 am

Aye man, normally I would fuck around, but this isn't the time for that.

What happened really sucks, and I wish you and your / his family a greater hope. He crossed the gates and the golden streets, he is in a better place now. Things like this happen, just keep yourself in good health and keep him in your heart, he hasn't left, he dispersed into something greater.

Sorry if I'm no help. If you need anyone to talk to I'm here for ya, just let me know. You have a friend in me.

We have enough mexicans and blacks, we need to build a wall.

Think about it they produce more children than us.

Our race will be dead in 50 years.

Honestly, I usually don't get involve into stuff like this, but someone should dox this guy and call his parents.

The fucks your deal bitch? You seemed cool yesterday.

You're a scum worthless piece of shit making comments like this. Just because they may not hurt you if you were in this situation or because you can just blow it off, doesn't mean others can. I'm not normally too sympathetic online anymore but you don't have to be a fuckin prick, go fix yourself man fr

Doctors said he's got no chance.

Ignore the troll, appreciate those who kept him in your thoughts, sad to see he's only 31.

That's very sad my man. It happens tho, you just need to appreciate what you have left, cause deaths happen often in life. Even loosing old friends I haven't talked to for a while is pretty damn hard.

Appreciate what you have man, thats all that life is about, family and love.

Sorry to hear this, I really am. Life is a strange thing and can be taken in an instant. It's why I try every day to treat others the best I can, because you never know when it might be your/their last day on earth. You can't change when you are dead, so try and be the best person you can while alive.

I feel this more so because I am an uncle to 2 amazing girls and I couldn't imagine the thought of this happening to me.

robemicrofrost - March 7, 2018, 9:11 am

So sorry to hear... hope you get over it well

ven0m - March 7, 2018, 9:27 am

I am sorry to hear that. May he finds peace in the afterlife. ?

Ninja - March 7, 2018, 9:32 am

Very sorry to hear that. He went to a better place though. Hopefully you recovered.

Sorry to hear OP.

I lost my Uncle when he was roughly that age as well, he wiped out on ice in the back, broke his back and got cushing's disease.

He did not last long after that. But before he died him and I worked on a School art project together. Technically speaking it was his last piece of finished artwork ever done.

Still got it framed and hanging in my living room.
