Thread: One piece dead?

ZaviY - August 24, 2017, 7:51 pm

Hello guys, I stopped watch one piece 1 year ago. Should I watch again or it is going bad this arc?

One Piece has a lot of great arcs, but it also has a lot of lame, unnecessary arcs. I'm up-to-date. I'm not sure if I would recommend it considering how many episodes there are in total and the amount of fillers. But it is good despite that. Perhaps you can find a website which lists skippable/non-canon episodes.

No it is not dead at all, watch it if you like it

In comparison, you can't beat Naruto when it comes to fillers. OP is fine.

I used to love it then I just fell off track never got back into it, last episode I watched was when they were on the back of some old elephant that moves.

Been watching Boruto since its starting to get interesting.

i doubt it will, its here to stay, it will be here when our grandkids have kids.

even if it did, it's been a nice run hasn't it?

It's not all arcs from Dressrosa(including it) are so goood :P

MonetizeMaster - September 23, 2017, 10:39 am

Oda said that he is still enjoying creating new episodes
