Thread: Why do people show fake \$ making methods or feel the need to show off fake \$?

Why do people show fake $ making methods or feel the need to show off fake $ to others?

Not calling anyone out specifically but often times online, I see people show off $ (Not even their $) or fake $ making methods (Taken from someone else). Like legit, why do people feel the need to show off this fake shit? To show off their big e-dick? Like seriously, that's childish...

Note: Might rustle some people but please don't give hate. I'm genuinely wondering...

They dont make real money so they feel the need to show fake money. I tried it when I was younger. Bought expensive clothes even though I was broke, I was 14 with no money.

People lose money trying to act rich.

People like to feel important, especially when they're really not.

OH YEAH AND,

I have $200,000 in my PayPal.

My method works way better than anyone else's on here, wanna buy it? Complete unsaturated fats method.

This quote sums up 80-90% of the ebooks out there. Complete waste of time.

Got ripped off on some ebook before and now I'm staying clear from ALL ebooks.

Nah brah, these days, people want to show off like they are the next lil wayne. Who can blame them when people are trying to strike it big.

I look at it this way, there's a saying that I grew up with : "Empty barrels make the most noise" , which applies to those people, not my life so I couldn't care less.
