Hello members,

Based on a true story: In the summer of 1967, rioting and civil unrest starts to tear apart the city of Detroit. Two days later, a report of gunshots prompts the Detroit Police Department, the Michigan State Police and the Michigan Army National Guard to search and seize an annex of the nearby Algiers Motel. Several policemen start to flout procedure by forcefully and viciously interrogating guests to get a confession. By the end of the night, three unarmed men are gunned down while several others are brutally beaten.

My opinion: The film is incredible with a huge suspense the whole way through the film you are off your seat! "It's closer to a hair-trigger historical nightmare, one you can't tear yourself away from." You will personally go back home and do research on it more, just like I did. The justice you will want for the kids that died in the Algiers Hotel is hugely unbelievable.

It's sad how the Emoji Movie made more than the Detroit movie.

Detroit was an amazing movie btw.
