Is it really that bad? I'm playing Wild and I only saw maybe 2 who I rekt'd.

Yeah, before the main weakness was that Druid had alot of trouble with wide boards, but since the new card and the new hero power, it makes it fucking annoying to play against. Especially the decks that use spreading plague and the card that gives all the minions +1/+1 which makes it almost impossible to clear the board unless you use priest or warlock.

If you play standard you will understand why it's cancerous, Wild is way easier to check how op the decks in there are so Jade Druid is not that bad Jade druid isn't that good anymore, with the come of skulking gheist , which counters the jade druid pretty hard its easy to beat them. And spreading plague got nerfed (costs went to 6 instead of 5), add a skulking gheist to your deck and see what happens.

i love my jade deck it is a lot of fun. it got a little nerfed since that card that originaly gave you two mana crystals just gives you one

Yeah, the innervate nerf was a hard nerf but no one uses innervate anymore.
