Thanks for posting this! I'm sure this will help many many many members understand the upgrade requirements and what not.

I bookmarked this thread and will be sharing it with anyone who may have these sort of questions.

Requirement: Must be UB3R

Members are required to be in the usergroup Ub3r to make threads in this forum.

Must be upgraded, ub3r or l33t.

Also, you're missing a few.

Premium tools and programs, you need to be ub3r or l33t.

Online accounts and its subforums - ub3r only.

I think we also have a limit of 50 posts for something, I think it's for clickable links.

Correct (when it comes to posting), as long as you have neutral or positive reputation.

This is not for any award. I told Omni i've got enough of them. This thread is here because this is the section where it's needed the most.

I won't take an award for this thread. If i want an award i'll spend weeks on a thread, and make it pages long.

Not sure how anyone can possible think that this thread is sticky man worthy?

You have been given a negative reputation, which has prevented you from posting in the area that you speak of. You likely once had a positive reputation which has allowed you to post in the marketplace. Get back up to positive reputation and you will be able to post in that section again.

I suggest you read up on the Help Docs to learn more about reputation and post requirements. You can find that here --> <https://hackforums.net/allhelp.php>

The requirement to post in the marketplace has been changed from positive reputation to nonnegative. You likely made the posts when you were at 0 reputation, then because somebody bumped you into negative reputation you no longer meet the requirements to make a post.

I'm pretty sure it's required that you are an UB3R as well but don't quote me on that. The most notable requirement is being approved by Omniscient, which requires a member to be active or otherwise known within the community as well as a decent profile, post amount, join date and no scam reports among other things.

At this point, I reckon he should be receiving the Diamond award- unless he's hoping to stack up on the big nose sticky awards haha.

RAT and FreeMoneyMakingEbooks (221=freemoneymakingebooks and 114=RAT) requires a positive reputation to post in. I've just changed it to require at least a 0 reputation. Also fixed that typo (messsage), which helped me find the requirement. Oh, also that requirement for those forums is also only for members with under 20 posts.

I can probably go over a few of my plugins and post the arrays I have set which may make it easier to create a useful guide about requirements.

That's better. Neutral or positive should work fine. Will add it to the thread.

I'd like that and will make amendments if you ever post the arrays public.

Never know you could use a different avatar from the ones provided by HF as a non-upgraded member, thanks for this.

DenizZ - September 16, 2017, 1:07 pm

Amazing thread Maxim. I see you're a mentor now as well, I already predicted you'd get that status. Well deserved.

SIM-3658605 - September 16, 2017, 1:22 pm

Under the Ub3r requirements, I have yet to found out that it is not what you put the 60 days it is instead 90 days. Unforutanetly in my case I can not buy uber : (

Quote:

- Must have at least 250 posts.
 - Must have at least 25 reputation.
 - Must be a member at least 60 days.
 - Must be approved.
 - If denied cannot apply again for 90 days.

Updating this. Might have been out of the loop for some time. Anyone who can find something that is not correct?

Will look into integrating Warning System Explained written by Genuine to this thread.
I suppose I have to wait for him to go online. Will send a PM and just wait.

Elitas - February 9, 2018, 4:42 pm

Might be wrong, but I believe neutral reputation is no longer enough for marketplace - Requires a positive rep. Or am I wrong?

Also, considering Trust Scan is currently not working - Might be good to note it in the OP, to prevent people upgrading to 3P1C and then getting mad that it's still 'Under Maintenance'.

Really good thread Maxim, nice to see you keeping this updated. Miss your guides/tutorials tbh, would be nice to see some more.

This guy has 0 rep and posted in the marketplace.

Thanks though, let me know if you find something that's wrong.

Thought about it, but then the next day we'll see a thread "Trust Scan Back" and i'll have to re-add it.

Maybe as an addition on the section where you describe private messaging, you could include information about the pruning of messages.

As described in this post;
