I havnt seen this done before but i would like to introduce a forum about e whoring to you guys. If you sign up much appreciated but ofc you dont have to:
<http://ewhore.network/>

If you would like to post some guides / packs ect ect. On the website i would appreciate it very much!

There's a pretty decent market for this in my personal opinion. Although I have not touched e-whoring in well over 5 years, there is like no active forums. I feel like this should be in a different section though, maybe the referrals or site sections.

Ill throw a post in there too then, I didn't feel like putting anything there mainly because alot of people on this forum i have noticed think ewhoring is a 'sick' thing to do..

Pez_ - August 30, 2017, 8:02 am

I would say post this aswell in website showcase and reviews and maybe add a award or something for members from hackforums just to make people a bit more interested. This done have potential to grow and I will be keeping an eye on it Exactly, as pointed out. It should have some sort of paid or secret subscription to view the forum contents.

atleast make ir more secure.

genoh - August 31, 2017, 6:41 am

I think the first is you should shift it to a social engineering forum, with a focus on the e-whoring. Just being an e-whore forum will have this die out quickly, whereas general social engineering is actually available to most people. Otherwise, just an e-whore forum seems a bit grimy, at least for normies.

Not charge, but have some kind of subscription for number of posts , time registered etc to view contents. And it must surely have "Register to View" just like HF.

Ill look into it ?

booger99 - September 1, 2017, 12:08 am

This shit needs more members its practically dead. ewho.re is a older forums and look at it now

Younis Khan - September 1, 2017, 12:11 am i dont like the idea of popularizing an ewhore subreddit forum ro community hf its good on but anywhere else if it gets popular enough more peopel will know about ewhoring and then we all fail :(

slideman.v - September 24, 2017, 12:32 pm

Good job buddy I wil join soon
