Thread: Insider Trading Tips

In relation to crypto currencies, not stocks, would giving out/selling insider trade tips be allowed? I can see this information making HF users thousands of dollars.

Don't ask me about a source or anything please. Just asking if its allowed, is a good idea, and would be appreciated in the community.

Insider trading is not allowed, even in the crypto currency world. You can give tips and advice but you can not give insider trading secrets. It is illegal.

It's not morally a nice thing, but it's definitely not illegal. I'd buy it tbh

I think as of this point insider info on crypto trading is in a grey area. There is precedent for BTC to be treated like currency, but there are no such precedents set for insider trading of crypto currencies.

Don't think I'll end up doing this. Thanks for the feedback.
