What 'Faces' Is:

My dream for Faces is that it will be a group where all people can come together and help each other. Faces will be for those who are struggling with addiction. Faces will be for those who just want to vibe and hang out with like-minded people. Faces will be for those who want emotional support. Faces will be a place where you will be able to express yourself however you'd like, and you'll be accepted. Essentially, I hope that it will be a place that you will come to vent, or a place that you will come to hang out. I know the community will greatly enjoy Faces and what we will offer.

Why do you want to join Faces?: I'd like to be in a high quality group that engages in an intellectual and meaningful conversation, also be in a group that's different then usual as you've mentioned.

Why should we accept you?: I would make high quality posts, offer advice to members who need help, engage in conversation with other members and be active in the group.

Anything else?: Thanks for reading my application.

Why do you want to join Faces?:

I like the group's idea and I like helping people with their problems.

Why should we accept you?: Well, you have no reason not to and I could be a very good group member since my personality fits the group theme in my humble opinion.

Anything else?: Nothing else. I'm not feeling like spending too much time to spice up this application however my wish to join Faces is genuine. Thank you.

I know I haven't really contributed to this site enough and that's been something I've been really trying to work on.

Why do you want to join Faces?: This group is all about helping people and understanding their problems, and that's all I ever try to do. I have a huge interest in discussing problems whether that's personal or psychological. We all could use help time to time. Why can't that place be here? I mean, we do spend a lot of time and energy here discussing topics, why can't one of those topics be personal?

Why should we accept you?: I have a passion helping when I can or when I can. I've been through a lot so I can relate to most problems, in a way or not, I'll try my best to help the situation and most importantly help you. I'm a very active member during certain times but slightly inactive for some parts. All I have to say is I'm a well-rounded type of guy; I'm very sincere and empathetic type of person.

Anything else?: I have a huge interest in meeting new people and hearing their stories; getting to know other users and their backgrounds. I would be a very dedicated user as much as possible and would do any task necessary for the day. Thank you!

CA905 - August 31, 2017, 9:31 am

General Application

Name: CA905

Age: 19

Location: Canada

Contributions: I often look for topics on here I can help with and message the users if it is indeed a personal and touchy topic or post. I don't spam the forums or put in advice I wouldn't take myself. I'm a genuine dude trying to help when I am active on here which I have been since joining.

Why do you want to join Faces?: I saw, "a group where all people can come together and help each other. Faces will be for those who are struggling with addiction" and I knew it was the right group for me. I may not have dealt with vices like drugs, but I have struggled with food and sugar addiction. I know a lot of people have a disregard for that, but ironically, it is one of the biggest issues in the US and Canada.

Why should we accept you?: You should accept me because I strive to help people. I know I barely passed 150 posts, but most of my messages on these forums are actually follow ups to users and me helping them with certain things, including health, currency, and etc. I have overcome my struggles in weight and health and I seek to help people in that domain because I've changed and I'd like to help people out.

Anything else?: I have just recently joined here so I will admit I know next to nothing about hacking. My education will gear me towards an easier learning of it, but tbh, I have no interest in that stuff in particular. I am more of a people person and since this group seems to be more social, I'd love to be part of the social aspect. I'm also not going to kid, when I saw the place to vent, I got pretty excited. I hate dealing with drama irl so I enjoy venting online, even on my Twitter accounts that aren't personal lol. If you look at my threads, I've done some bitching and venting already in regards to Crypto currencies, something that is pretty new to me, but I've caught on pretty quickly and I am still learning and open to learning more and more here on HF.

Why do you want to join Faces?: I have been on Hackforums since I started going to high school, and it has already helped me so much, I would like to give back to the community and be part of a group such as this one

Why should we accept you?: I do not mind listening to people, talking to them about their day, and helping them out with any issues that they may have. I have worked at a bunch of fast food places, a farm, and a restaurant, I have grown up around all sorts of people. I have experience in IT, I have a Testout PCPro certification, and I am experienced in basic coding, mainly HTML, Java, and CSS

Anything else?: Thanks for giving me the opportunity to be part of this group, you can PM me if you have any questions.

Why do you want to join Faces?: I would love to join faces because I get a pretty positive vibe when I saw this thread. I feel like I can relate with alot of the people in the group and just chill with you guys and make new friends!

Why should we accept you?: Well, for starters, I took a good look over the groups recruiting and This group reached out to me and as I said above, I would love to chill and see whats up in the subforum. I would love for Faces to be my first HF group I rep. I am very supportive and I love helping people so if anyone in the group needs to vent or needs advice ill do my best to give the best advice I could give.

Anything else?: Just wanted to say I love the fucking song you added in the thread. Thanks for taking the time to read my app!

I would love to be invited to this. I have beyond extensive experience with addiction, addicts, withdrawal, highs/lows, ect..

Especially where I'm at in my life right now, I strongly feel as if I could be a ton of help with this.

Feel free to check out the Vices section, you'll find tons of threads in there from me that revolve this subject.

For instance my Vices help desk, I made this years back in an attempt at what seems like what you're doing now with this.

Why do you want to join Faces?: I want to join Faces because it's a group of people who can help each other with real life problems when they need it. So it sounds like a place where I can fit in and have fun.

Why should we accept you?: I have struggled with addiction to cigarettes and nicotine and it was really hard giving it up so I know what it feels like and can relate to it. I've been depressed and suicidal for a big part of my life and I used to take like 1.5mg of xanax weekly which was one of the causes of my depression, I wouldn't say I was addicted to it but I always went to it when I felt bad which was everyday. I'm not saying my issues with vices are why you should accept me but I can relate and hopefully help the group members who need it.

Anything else?: I know some HTML and PHP and can work with Photoshop CC. I'm also taking courses in Illustrator and Animate CC.
