Thread: Do you watch ongoing anime?

CorrosiveBlueberry - August 31, 2017, 3:19 pm

Do you watch ongoing anime, or wait until season is complete and then binge watch the full series?

DerMensch24 - August 31, 2017, 5:09 pm

Depends, I typically wait until it is over unless there's something that really catches my eye. This season for example I'm watching Made in Abyss as it comes out since its been pretty interesting in comparison to what I saw in the rest of the season that came out.

Lyrarei - August 31, 2017, 7:39 pm

I watch seasonal animes most of the time now so yeah.

10x - August 31, 2017, 7:41 pm

I wait since I love discussing the anime with others who are interested in the anime just like me.

g?th - August 31, 2017, 7:42 pm

Nah, I'm not that into it so I only watch completed ones.

WhiSky1337 - August 31, 2017, 9:41 pm

Watching ongoings, cuz nothing to watch from finished animes.

oscast - August 31, 2017, 10:03 pm

Usually I will wait when I even do watch anime. I really haven't done a lot of watching tbh. More reading LN's :)

Yuikoro - September 1, 2017, 2:41 am

Yep.

Watching Boku no Hero Academia S2, Vatican something something investigators something, New Game S2, Aho Girl, Tsurezure Children, Kirito Has A Smartphone, and High School Harvard ft. Assholes

Aar?n - September 1, 2017, 8:31 pm

I used to when I was younger but now I just like to get a show over with instead of watching it weekly.

Viaa - September 1, 2017, 8:35 pm

It depends but then i would love to watch on going anime.

Deany - September 1, 2017, 8:36 pm

yes but i limit myself to 1-3 shows can't keep up with them all

Jiren - September 3, 2017, 8:55 am

Only one I am currently watching is Dragon ball super which is ongoing. I usually wait for an anime to finish airing before watching it

Bloodmgx - September 3, 2017, 8:01 pm

I like to keep two ongoing animes at all times usually, to give me something to look forward to.

But generally I like to be able to complete a series as fast as I want so I'll be watching completed series in the meantime through the week.

MonetizeMaster - September 4, 2017, 1:45 pm

I'm watching one piece everyweek for 7 years maybe.

Lolilol - September 6, 2017, 3:42 pm

Good ongoing anime are really rare now they stop at 25 and see if the show is a success or not, either continue or cancel it :x

Cursedflame1990 - September 16, 2017, 8:07 am i wait until there are like 20/30 episodes , then i binge watch it. i just did that with dragonball super. did around 80 episodes in a weekend lol. :

Houtarou - September 16, 2017, 10:50 pm

I watch way more currently airing shows than I should haha. Doing 14 this season; comparatively speaking, next season is going to be light with only four for sure and a few more maybe's.

test - September 16, 2017, 10:56 pm

I only really watch anime that is already fully released, however, I have been watching My Hero Academia as it has been released.

Omtism - September 16, 2017, 11:14 pm

I don't watch anything that isn't airing.

The only correct way to watch Anime.

SLY - September 19, 2017, 12:28 am

I usually like to wait until the season is finished. I hate waiting a week or 2 for an episode.

alexbit - September 19, 2017, 2:22 am

Watching Boruto now.I would normally wait till the anime completes,But this i can't wait.So presently watching ongoing anime.

stink - September 21, 2017, 11:34 pm

Binge watch the whole series man.

KodexDE - September 21, 2017, 11:51 pm

Im watching Princess Prinzpal :) Very funny and much action ^^

DoroL - September 23, 2017, 4:33 pm

At the moment I hardly can find enough time to binge watch, so I go with the 1 ep a week style.

Professor Pantsu - September 26, 2017, 10:12 pm

I watch ongoing anime and in between episodes I watch shit from my backlog. It's nice having something to look forward to every week.

unkown123 - September 28, 2017, 4:46 am

yes ofc if it's possible ^^

Geass - September 28, 2017, 6:58 am sadly yes, I always check for first episode if it is good anime, and then I am getting addicted and can't stop watching it, after that I have to wait 1 episode per week and it is annoying :(

ParagonOxy - September 29, 2017, 4:14 am

Never. Cannot stand waiting every week for a new episode. Same goes to reading web novels and other stuff as well.

CAFEEFAC - September 29, 2017, 11:12 pm

It depends, to be honest. Sometimes I go long streaks without watching anime, and at other times I binge-watch. To answer your question, I try to wait for the whole series to finish and then I just binge it, but there are times when I just have to keep watching.

HackingSoul - September 30, 2017, 3:43 pm

Watch One Piece. It is the best anime series in my opinion :)

CorrosiveBlueberry - November 16, 2020, 9:54 am

I'm starting to watch ongoing anime again, as of recent year or two I haven't watched much anime and, I miss it.

Sugawara - November 16, 2020, 6:33 pm

Currently I'm watching Haikyuu and Black Clover. I don't want to get involved into multiple ones at once though!

Soulmate~?? - November 16, 2020, 6:47 pm

I do if it's interesting enough, but if I had a choice I'd rather just watch it all at once

Sirbonbon - November 21, 2020, 1:42 pm

my favorite is blood blockade battlefield

Artisan - November 22, 2020, 9:52 am

A bit of both. Im currently waiting for One Piece, Fire Force and Black Clover to watch weekly. Almost done with binging Assassination Classroom so a bit sad about that. Gonna need some new anime to lift my mood.

summit - December 9, 2020, 9:50 pm

As a teenager I remember watching Yu-Gi-Oh 5Ds and other anime weekly, but as an adult I refuse to be at the mercy of cliffhangers so I'm waiting until its over to watch it all at once. Unless it's a REALLY good show or slice of life. Yeah...SoLs are probably the exception because no cliffhangers. I just watch those for fun.
