Thread: Thread Removed/Warning Rep regarding BH/GH method

Jordana Brewster - September 1, 2017, 3:16 pm

Hi,

So I made sure to read all the rules before posting, since when has the selling of a GH/BH method not allowed?

I recently saw someone selling a few ebooks regarding this for $500 a piece.

I posted in the premium seller's section, and I've been sent this by Minimalist <https://hackforums.net/misc.php?action=help&hid=21>

And as far as I can see, my method does not violate any of these

Nothing to do with:

- Phishing
- Dumps / Combo Lists
- DDOS for Hire
- Account Generators
- Financial Fraud
- Virtual Credit Cards (VCC), Prepaid Credit/Debit Cards and Virtual Bank Accounts (VBA)
- Identity Theft

etc.

Your thread was removed because you were asking for investments:

Alright, so I worded it wrong.

People pay for a service, I do said service, people get reward from said service.

That's not an investment, it's not really much different from people selling Instagram likes and so on

But fine, let me repackage it into a $500 eBook, rather than offering something cheap and accessible for the community

See what I was trying to do, was help people who weren't "rich" be able to profit from a GH/BH method, that I wasn't planning on selling as an eBook simply because I don't believe in selling $500 BH ebooks.

I let people decide how much they wanted to pay me for the service, and I and them both benefited from it.

It's like a service, not a direct investment.

I guess since betting groups are allowed, I will make a blackhat group

So it's an investment plan.

Users are paying you and you're returning their money and some extra.

Do as you wish...

I swear, try and help the poorer members of the community by not selling an expensive eBook, and instead providing a method that gives them 'free money' but nope.

Alright, well, thanks for the feedback.
