EDIT: Group off the market.

PM me offers.

Minimum offer: $4500

Current offer: $4600.

Note: Has TWO sub forums which are $300 a piece from Omni, Not many groups offer 2.

BTC/ETH Only.

Tl;dr= Father has prostate cancer and I have 2 company's to run, I also am back to college full time, why I'm selling. I don't have time to manage a group but I would love to again in the future.

I would prefer a speedy sale but I can tell you I won't even consider under $4.5k. I won't sell if I don't get a price I find acceptable, Since I didn't sell to people offering $4.75k that should tell you something.

Highest offer I like will get it.

Mr. Robot - September 1, 2017, 11:19 pm

Hey that's a decent price though. Sucks to hear about your father's prostate cancer mate, make a crowdfund please so people can help.

I don't really think we should care about why is he selling or what are his motives, honestly none of our concern.

His website, his family is his personal problem.

Quote:My mother is going through radiation currently for stage 4 breast cancer but I didn't want a pity party but if anyone thinks I'm lying about them having CANCER for gods sake PM me and I'll prove it. Reading this just makes me sad, why the fuck a guy should prove that his mother is having cancer? He's not even donation for helping his family. None of our concern if the news is false or true.

He's selling his group for x amount, whatever OP does. Is not our concern. Please just don't bash anyone for something that's not in their hands.

As long as he hasn't rented out his group and collected money for buyins, subforums, etc and now is selling it - Then I don't have any problem either.

If my family members just got ill and I didn't have time to enjoy a group I paid $5k for, I would also want to sell it as there is no point in just holding onto it!

This pretty much. I came in here expecting to have a laugh but ended up wondering why the guy was getting so much hate. It was obvious to anyone that he had no idea what he was doing. I don't really think he should be required to produce physical evidence of cancer either. It isn't like he scammed anyone, he just wanted to get his money back.

I really don't get why anyone CARES why he is selling?
He paid for the group, right? Yes.
So he can sell whenever, right? Yes.

If I paid 4k for a virtual item and got in the position where I needed 4k then it would be a no-brainer to sell.

If you all give a shit that much about groups losing value because of quick turnover then fucking do something about it. Buy the group and make it the next big thing on HF.

If you aren't going to buy it then why the hell are you wasting your time bitching and moaning about him selling?

Are you going to post your current offer and user? -if you have seven offers already.

I'll run it by Omni if Topdog77 considers my offer. It's a serious offer on top of that Topdog77 knows who I am so that isn't a problem (We have known each other from a different forum).

If he does decide to sell me the group I'll keep the posts so nobody time feels "wasted", I'm more interested in branding it to my company.

You need to be approved by the administrator Omniscient before you can think about owning a group.

VirtualFrost - September 4, 2017, 4:39 pm

(Sep 4, 2017 08:28 AM)Fictional Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Well you can't exactly "rent" an entire group to an user. However, you can let someone be leader in the group and still control everything just by running every change through you as the "artificial owner" I guess. This was done by Nex.

That's what it means to rent a group, basically, take over ownership and rename the group/images to whatever you want. It happened like last year or something where Nex or someone rented his group to someone and they were able to change the name/images and run it as their own group.

Buying leadership is different like you said, you're only being a leader, not an owner.

PM me what the current offer is and I'll see what I can do ?

topdog77 - October 7, 2017, 5:34 am

Still for sale, message me your offers via PM please, do NOT ask to go on a payment plan!

topdog77 - October 10, 2017, 8:29 am

Still for sale, $4.5k seems to be the barrier where we have half a dozen users both publicly and privately trying to buyin, so far it seems they've been unsuccessful so PM me offers!

Thanks bud, I'm in the sale for the long-haul and don't intend to just sell it to get rid of it.

I think people obviously have realized that & stopped bothering me with like $4k offers finally...

Still for sale!

Linux. - October 15, 2017, 3:51 pm

I'll offer you $4.5k BTC, I assume I'll need to PM omni to be approved though?

Yes you will need to be approved before you are able to start the process.

Thanks for the offer, I'll consider it invalid but still interesting until you get approved by Omni though, got to warn you though I've had a lot of $4.5k offers :l, If you've looked at my thread occasionally I kept updating it with gyazos under like 7-10 days ago because I kept getting so many $4k-$4.5k offers, seems like the sweet spot for a-lot of people but I appreciate it regardless.

Linux. - October 16, 2017, 12:26 pm

Well I got approved by Omni now so...

The groups gonna be for sale for 10 years if you don't just take an offer. :P

Yeah but might as well sell for the right price.

topdog77 - October 18, 2017, 10:16 pm

Well, this is till for sale if anyone's interested.

Please don't offer me $4500-$4600 because at this point(even on this thread, let alone PM) I have to have close to 10-20 $4500-$4600 offers lolz.

Just want to confirm that you do understand; an auction always reaches a point where nobody wants to offer more money. Right?

And I thought this money was urgently required (hence the quick group sale)?

Perhaps that is because the current value of a group is that range? Just food for thought. GLWS.

Sorry to hear about what happened to your father. I hope you can get what you want. Good luck sir.

Autist - October 20, 2017, 12:25 pm

Its a real shitter to see you sell your group

J. McCarthy - October 21, 2017, 7:02 am

How's your price going to reflect hf burning

Salt peter - October 21, 2017, 7:06 am

I'll offer a few dollars and a bottle of peach Snapple sitting next to me in light of Omniscient's recent changes.

Nex is selling for 4.25 so I find that hard to believe

More so if you haven't already accepted it... lol.

seriously not selling for 5k with recent changes & other groups being cheaper than 5k would be a real jack move or maybe he's not actually getting any offers and just pretending in an attempt to price it higher

This seems to be the most reasonable explanation at this point.

Mac - October 21, 2017, 1:16 pm

$4,000 bid from myself. :Oui:
