Hey guys. There's a poker site that's been around for a while it's ignition, previously known as bovada. It is 100% legit with gambling such as blackjack, tricard poker, slots, and all casino games, as well as great options for poker, including games ranging from $5 to $2000, and tournaments of small sizes and small buyins to tournaments with thousands of people.

So if you want to have all the options of a real casino at your house. This is a good poker site for you.

In addition they will double your 1st deposit bonus when you use a referral. This bonus may not be withdrawn initially, but it may be used to buyin to tournaments, used for casino gambling, and is able to be cashed out once it has been played through a certain amount of times. If you are interested. You may signup here: IGNITION

I play on ignition frequently. Why do you dislike it so much? It has good game selection and tournament selection, and is one of the most trusted and largest poker rooms that allow U.S players.

Also answering any questions anyone might have in thread.
