I wanted to make a community alert about this a few days ago but he finally locked his sales thread.

Their hosting company LITERALLY DOES NOT HAVE ANY SERVERS. Yet, even after losing their servers, they accepted sales and refused refunds for over a week.

Now the owner is doing a BTC giveaway for people to wear his signature for his new BTC gambling website.

Overall Sherlock221B is sketchy as fuck and should not be dealt with under any circumstances. People wearing his signature are being paid with BTC stolen from other members here.

OP you should add his entire uid to the title of this thread rather than the first three digits. Also putting his profile link in the first post wouldn't be a bad idea either.

UID = 2492457

I'd recommend hiring someone to dox him, and get your money back.

For everybody reading this thread, please do not mix up this shitty hosting with mine.

I own LITEHOST.NET , NOT LITEHOSTER.COM

Those kids literally ripped the name, and when I contacted them they said "Sorry we will change the name, please don't make a community alert.", then they added me to their ignore list.

A bunch of children tbh.
