Thread: It's happening! I'm finally going back to Germany!

niro - September 5, 2017, 9:36 am

About a year ago I made a post here bragging that I finally saved enough money to purchase plane tickets for my mother, since then she has decided to make it a family vacation. Well it's time! Tomorrow we leave for 3 weeks! I am going to meet a part of the family that I have never met, and see & try things that I have only heard about!

My mom keeps talking about all the food I'm going to eat?

Does anyone have any must-see places I should visit

Nice!!! Haven't been there myself but IMO if you know anyone in the area, you should hook with them and have them give you a tour :P

Got a classmate or two who live there which I would "force" to give me a tour xD

Visit c-base in Berlin! Besides there are nicer places than Germany to go in Europe. The Germans are ...
