Thread: Thread removed, and Minimalist put me on his ignore list?

Jordana Brewster - September 7, 2017, 3:51 am

Hi :)

So, a few days ago, I posted this:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5708586>

It was in regards to Minimalist removing my thread for it being an investment option, and I spoke to him and understood that I can't make it an investment

So I changed my selling, to a discord group, the same as those who run betting advice group

And he closed it again? What for now?

Then when I wanted to ask him why he is targeting me, and kindly talk with him on PM, he put me on his ignore list...

Is that something a staff member should do, or even anyone in position if they have a question?

You would not go to a shop and be ignored by the shopkeeper, if he has a duty to the community, he should respect and treat everyone fairly, and putting me on his ignore list, doesn't justify that..

Hope someone can help me out,

My BH/GH method does NOT break any of the disallowed blackhat activities mentioned, and if you are interested PM me

I had vouches on the thread from people who partook, but since it was removed :(

I have to get them again

Thank you!

Nobody likes a crybaby. No need to point out Minimalist as a bad guy just because you can't follow simple rules.

PM another staff for clarification or Omniscient directly.

I'm not "crying" about it, I simply want to know, why he thinks what I'm doing now is against the rules.

I already listened to him once, and changed how I do things, and I don't see why he has targeted me again.

I already read all the rules, and nothing I do violates it.

I've had members vouch for it

Minimalist is a nice guy you must have done some shit to piss him off that we don't know about.

minimalist - September 7, 2017, 4:13 am

The first time your thread was removed, you were promoting a HYIP. The second time, you were promoting a HYIP through a Discord group. I don't know if I'm being vague, but what you're doing is not allowed on here.

I've disclosed everything that has happened

Full PM disclosure:

I asked you, if I could make a discord group, what is the difference between a betting group, as that advocates investing money into a result and getting money back?

Is there a need to block me though? Because I've always engaged in a polite and meaningful way with you, simply because I understand your position

You are staff, your job is to enforce and protect the community, and my job is to sell a method, just like many others on here, so I would like to have known my options, and what possibilities there are

This ain't no ponzi scheme, ask the people who've been paid lol

I'm just being a white knight by not selling this method for $500 a copy

Truth - September 7, 2017, 4:20 am no one is going to invest in your bs op, get lost. the minimalist is a new staff but what he did seems alright here.

Betting is legal and against odds/the house ponzi schemes are scummy and banned on the forum, hence why your threads were closed.

Around 7 people have purchased the method, and I believe 5 have received what they had wanted and the other 2 are in the progress of doing it

Once again, my scheme is not a ponzi scheme.

I was being nice by rather than selling a method upfront, allow those without money to be able to benefit of something I found and I take a small commission

Where are users advertising betting groups while accepting investments? Feel free to report any threads.

What you're doing is not allowed on here.

Ok, but your not understanding. I never saw your original post, but based on what Minimalist wrote its a HYIP, "High-yield investment program"

"A high-yield investment program (HYIP) is a type of Ponzi scheme, an investment scam that promises unsustainably high return on investment"

Hence the key words ponzi scheme, and what your describing sounds like a ponzi scheme.

"5 of the 7 people have gotten what they put in, and i just take a commission."

Moral of the story, its disallowed here, stop promoting it.

Is him blocking you a little much as staff? Maybe, but the thread closure and warning is legit.

So, as you mentioned in the PM

"You can sell it as a method"

Our problem is then solved, I am sorry if you have felt that I have been on your nerves, or playing smart, I hope you understand that I wanted to help the community by offering people a way to get money without having the need, or the expertise to use a BH method and I didn't want to be one of those people selling a method for half a grand each way.

VirtualFrost - September 7, 2017, 4:24 am

If you're asking for an investment and you're paying them back later with what they paid + profit then that isn't allowed.

If you're selling people a method and that's it, then it sounds like you're wording the whole thing horribly.

Is him blocking you a little much as staff? Maybe, but the thread closure and warning is legit. What I'm describing is this:

A method where you can get "free money" that are hidden as transaction fees in a major online currency exchange, due to an exploit that has been found after the BTC split a few weeks ago.

If that is a ponzi scheme to you, then many of the eBooks on here are worse.

Again, like I said, I never saw your thread describing what it is about. I am only going off Minimalists post about it being a HYIP.

If you word it as a method and your commission is the profit from selling the method (ex, $400 a copy) then you would be fine as thats what most sellers here too. Just word it better youll be fine

Alright, I guess that is what I will do.

Edit: Thank you for being one of the few to help me out, left a bit on your profile!

Hope you have a nice day :)

Making a thread like this is just pathetic,

Don't understand why you're insisting on arguing here.

He's not being a bad guy. It's just not allowed

Yakz - September 7, 2017, 12:41 pm

"My BH/GH method does NOT break any of the disallowed blackhat activities mentioned, and if you are interested PM me" (Are you that desperate?)

"I'm just being a white knight by not selling this method for $500 a copy" (Only reason you're not selling it as a $500 method because it's not foolproof and people will eventually start losing money)

What the hell are you even trying to do. Get a grip and follow the rules.

FamousHater - September 7, 2017, 12:43 pm

if he removed it then not allowed. im sure he took the staff test to understand most the rules on here.

weird he decided to put u on his ignore list as sure he could of dealt with it a better way

Mr Kewl - September 7, 2017, 1:06 pm

If you have a problem with a Staff member, whom you think isn't working in accordance to HF laws you can report it to Omniscient.

Staff members can put anyone and everyone on their ignore list as they please..
