

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: iPhone 6S Wont turn on

Spotlight - September 12, 2017, 12:30 pm

My iPhone 6s is currently broken and I have so many important pics and vids on there i really need :(so basically, when i hold the power button, it shows the apple logo for about 5 seconds and then just shuts off. I tried doing a hard reset and it wouldn't work. Don't know what to do :(nothing was backed up either

Greenbird - September 12, 2017, 8:02 pm

I also got the same phone Leave it plugged in and try everything again while plugged in Im sure you tried everything though. ?

Kkai4u - September 12, 2017, 10:06 pm

When you connect it to your pc, does it recognise it though?

Spotlight - September 13, 2017, 6:38 pm

Anyone else know any ideas? And yes iTunes shows up

Blood - September 13, 2017, 6:42 pm

Gf recently got her screen replaced and a week later this happened. I believe it was a hardware issue and apple replaced it.. although it was under warranty.

Top 3! - September 13, 2017, 6:43 pm

Plug it to the computer hard reset it not that hard but back up everything first since it still recognize your device

Korvo - September 13, 2017, 6:46 pm

I would try a new battery, see if that fixes the issue. There is also a slight chance your power button or the flex cable is bad, causing the phone to shut off right away. I'd recommend taking it to a repair shop near you. Ubreakifix is pretty good.