The fourth one looks pretty lit

Jopemeister - September 13, 2017, 12:32 pm

4 is the only one i like, everything looks so "gamery"

i like it more subtle and sharp corners

Crypt - September 13, 2017, 12:32 pm

I personally like #4 the most. Really depends on the person and what this product is going to be used for.

The white or red bands may be switched out for some sort of RGB lighting and/or a small screen.

Chloe Price - September 13, 2017, 12:32 pm

I love the 3rd one, looks sexy TBH

NOTHING MATTERS - September 13, 2017, 12:34 pm

4 and 6 are my favorites but it depends what it's for.

For gamers and shit I'd say red/black is really good, but for like home appliance type deal then white/blue would prob be better.

In my opinion black looks good with yellow/green

but its pretty nice as it is aswell

Well the basic idea of it isn't just for gamers but anyone who maintains their own network. It will have full control over each devices upload/download speeds + proxy each device at will. Features the core concept which is the ability to view all passwords sent over the network, all images viewed on the internet (stored on an internal hard drive), all websites visited will be logged and other awesome features. (those will be on a real time panel for live monitoring)

The 2 main antennae are for 2.4ghz and 5ghz respectively which can be used as an extender instead of a main network device while the third can be used for pentesting.(wifi hacking/rouge APs and such)

It also features an onboard HDMI output to control the router directly if you choose.
(not giving out all the details)

If the RGB is hooked to a button or wheel (hardware) that can interact with the glow and scheme, would that be better?

Omise - September 13, 2017, 12:41 pm

6 or 4 - they both look pretty nice and they remind me of MKBHD's logo.

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

Slap a matte finish on #4 and it wins hands down.

Jopemeister - September 13, 2017, 12:55 pm

Please dont use glossy plastic on any of these, the fingerprints are gonna be a problem

Lukas - September 13, 2017, 1:03 pm

Some people have already made this aware, but like them, I believe #4 looks like it would fit in with a gaming setup, not only because of the color scheme but the patterns as well. I saw where you said that this was not only gamer oriented. With that in mind, I'd suggest trying to create an additional one while using #4 as inspiration without the aggressive design on the top.

Froggy - September 13, 2017, 1:05 pm

#4 is the best one by far.

MoZyDz - September 13, 2017, 1:11 pm

3 or 4! those are the best ones

?heshire - September 13, 2017, 1:16 pm

I Like #1 it looks all metallic and shit

Ered - September 13, 2017, 1:20 pm

Four and five are the most aesthetically pleasing.

sure, would be better for sure
so the user can chose his own color

funtela - September 13, 2017, 1:34 pm

Number 4 is definitely my favorite.

Charger - September 13, 2017, 1:40 pm

4 is the only one that doesn't look like garbage.

Yeah then I'd say go with the a red and white/black variety because imo you're not really looking for like a trusted secure feel, it's more like a badass high speed feel.

Only thing tho is if ur gonna go places and hack people's shit with ur wifi then the router would probably benefit from having more "friendly colors"

FamousHater - September 13, 2017, 1:46 pm

number 3 if u remove the backgrounds

Thanks for the response mate.

I say 4. It's pretty aesthetically pleasing and I just think black will work in 99% cases

You reckon if we make a company/group logo and slap it on with maybe a screen?

Vitani - September 13, 2017, 3:30 pm

The fourth one looks pretty good. I dislike 3 as it looks like a childs toy. One, two, five and six look decent but nothing special. I would definitely go with #4.

Small company logo would be good. It'll make it easier for people to spot products

LastSession - September 13, 2017, 3:32 pm

Definitely #2. It just looks simple and nice. #4 is also great.

Pre-eminent - September 13, 2017, 3:33 pm

I love the slick dark themed look, so #4 definitely has my vote.

Hmm yeah, that's what I was thinking. And maybe going for the matte black.

Da? ?ae - September 13, 2017, 3:34 pm

#4 is the first one to take my eye.

5 and 6 could be sub versions but #4 is badass

Anti - September 13, 2017, 3:37 pm

The 4th and 6th ones look the best imo.

Vitani - September 13, 2017, 3:38 pm

In that case, change the 3rd ones colors. Red should be matte black or dark grey and blue should be a primary color such as dark red or dark blue.

That should look pretty neat :)

SLY - September 13, 2017, 3:39 pm

#2 and #5 are good but the Red color is too in your face.

Darknuke08 - September 13, 2017, 3:41 pm

I would say the last one #6

baka~ - September 13, 2017, 4:08 pm

4 and 6 are my favorites.

Love the design of it aswell:D

saniah - September 13, 2017, 4:11 pm

Colors i like is 4 and 6 tbh.....

In?sane? - September 13, 2017, 4:17 pm

#3 or #4, depends if you have anything that goes with red.

Bluffer - September 13, 2017, 4:55 pm

My vote goes to number four, good luck with this.

Silent Uprising - September 13, 2017, 6:17 pm

#3 and #4 look pretty dope

Mr. Robot - September 13, 2017, 6:59 pm

I guess 4 and 6 are the main picks from the looks of things.

Mr. Robot - September 13, 2017, 10:41 pm

(Sep 13, 2017 10:40 PM)xadamxk Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) None of the above.

If you are going for a pineapple knockoff, make it look similar.

If your going for a pineapple upgrade/ alternative, make it look like an upgraded pineapple.
Make it mobile and as compact as possible.

The pineapple is a piece of shit and barely comes close to this.

So you think I should just make a black box with 3 antennae with some lights and ports...

Mr. Robot - September 13, 2017, 10:45 pm

(Sep 13, 2017 10:42 PM)xadamxk Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Well your mockup designs look like garbage.

Even if the specs are better, no one will but it if it looks like a brick with antennas lol

People bought the pineapple lol and that's literally a brick with antennas.

As far as specs? This is a fully fledged router. It's not some basic ddr-wrt+rpi attachment.

Don't mean to be rude, but it feels like you are coming across with a bad attitude today. First time i've seen you like this.

(Sep 13, 2017 10:42 PM)xadamxk Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Yes. You'll save money with simplicity and it'll give the hacker feel.

Add a few switches, LED's, and ports and 14 year old kids will buy them up instantly haha

It's not about saving money, I have a prototype built without a shell right now - custom pcb / well everything is from scratch. It's been a year long in the making.

It's also not about being a "hacker" this is/will be a large scale project being sold to any tom, dick and harry who want to have proper administration over the network they pay for.

Mr. Robot - September 13, 2017, 10:49 pm

(Sep 13, 2017 10:47 PM)xadamxk Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) No im being honest with you.

What software is your router running?

That was another perk of the pineapple compared to all the other existing firmwares.
At the time of release anyways, I haven't looked at them in years.

Right now it is running a fully stripped down DD-WRT which for the most part has been built up from scratch for the prototyping.

It will get a full rework if the funding is covered on kickstarter.

As I have done the entire thing to date by myself, with little knowledge with certain parts - I have had to make do with what I can do. If I get the funding, it'll be fully custom and I can afford a proper team to work on this.

Mr. Robot - September 13, 2017, 10:54 pm

(Sep 13, 2017 10:51 PM)xadamxk Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Where's the army working on that?

That's pretty impressive actually.

I wish mate and thanks. I started a discord a while back with brief information on it, but just got trolls and no real opinions/ideas or assistance.

Fortunately I have a lot of equipment at my disposal. I'm hoping as I said, that this gets picked up and funded because I personally believe it's a router everyone should own.

One of the interesting features I overlooked until one member brought up was not just having it as a router but also the ability to just have it as a wifi extender in general (which I then tested on my ex6200) and all went well.

(Sep 13, 2017 10:57 PM)xadamxk Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Yeah, look into it.

That's what I used my pineapple primarily for since our den doesn't get wifi lol

Just finished the prototype yesterday. Feels fucking good man.

Titleman - October 8, 2017, 4:51 am i like number 4 looking good

Makan - October 8, 2017, 4:54 am

Nmr 4 looks hella clean and just modern. I like 4 alot.

BENZO - October 8, 2017, 5:26 am

Just wanna be the first to say the #1 looks like complete shiiiiiiit

#4 is lit tho

Golang - October 8, 2017, 7:45 am

I can't vote yet because I'm an absolute peasant but I'd defiantly go for #6, love the simplicity and combination of white and red.

?D?vi??c?t?™ - October 10, 2017, 6:30 am

Colour should be based on audience.

Who do you target?
