A nice and well made product by Weco. Good luck with it.

ILY ? - September 20, 2017, 9:21 am

Best of luck man! Looks promising ;)

Nex+ - September 20, 2017, 11:04 am

Based off of features etc, this is well worth the price tag!

Lukas - September 20, 2017, 12:06 pm

Good luck selling, man. Looks well worth it.

Any plans to combine this tool with your mass mailer, so that you can search accounts for targeted emails and reply to those emails?

Edit: Another idea would be to modify this slightly and use it as a email/contact list scraper, that can scrape certain email addresses (ie: gmail, hotmail, yahoo, ISP, etc.) from each email account.

After I click login it does not open the software? I registered with the serial so what is going on?

Fixed it, seems like something went wrong with the upload.

So what does this do exactly? I'm having trouble following.

You log into an email account (yahoo, for example) search the entire Inbox for a term (login, for example) and what..it filters out emails from providers with, let's say, login details you received in the past and so forth? Then composes a list of those logins and displays them?

I'll read the 1st post again, might just be tired.
