Thread: Vitalik Buterin explains Ethereum

Eagerkid - September 18, 2017, 5:25 pm

I found this video from his twitter that was posted around 5 hours ago VIDEO

I just love reading and watching videos on Ethereum and the technology behind it. It is truly fascinating and will hopefully seem obvious to people in 10 years from now.

Unbelievable that he created it at 19 years old,

Long long time until they are able to scale big, but I am glad to hold on and actually be able to utilize my coins instead of making profits.

@24:10 I think Vitalik is having some issues haha. Thanks for the share OP, I enjoyed the video and article. Can't wait for the Metropolis update.

Such a young man changing the world one day at a time. How would you like to be so influential that fake rumors of your death causes a "stock" to plummet?

Ethereum is by far my favorite project and I absolutely love reading and writing on the matter. Ethfinex is coming out soon. I have beta access and am in talks of being a moderator alongside with being a content contributor/writer. Definitely will keep people updated how things are with that. :)

He is certainly one of the hottest developers in the market, everyone wants him to be apart of their board.

Yeah I have been reading a lot about ethfinex and it will certainly help the Ethereum community. Wow that would be very amazing if you were able to write for them, you will certainly have to keep us updated

Hail GOD vitalik, I will follow him on every project he goes. Already did on OMG and Kyber, it is basicly free money.

I like Ethereum because society has embraced it positively.

I love how Vitalik gives absolutely no fucks about his looks (that shirt tho).

History will remember him as a guy who changed the world, we don't deserve Vitalik.

I think he crashed at 24:10. System rebooting.

Pretty interesting view, he's down to earth and obviously doesn't give a shit about his appearance.
