You don't say whether this is a buy in thread or not.

You mention "payment method" once and that's in the form.

So you're willing to pay me $75 for me to join ?

Lol what? Just about every single tutorial in that preview you can find no less than a million of online.

No hate but that is 100% misleading bullshit.

L•S•D - September 23, 2017, 10:00 am

LMFAO I have 1 friend that I work with and I would never work with a group of people and I don't even like working with another person.

Learning these things is quite easy use the search button. I can get into hell forums on the dw for cheaper and make your group look like a fucking dictionary compared to a bible.

Even darknet sites charge you way less to join their forums and they provide instant information on the same topics and many more.

Sorry but 75$ to join a group on skype/discord/xmpp whatever your hosting it on is not worth it. The people who pay to get into this group are getting scammed worse than the kids paying for 100$ e-books Imfaoooooooooooooooooooooooooooo

I've posted a lengthy post on this thread and raised some valid concerns and questions regarding the recruitment and the post was reported and removed.

I did not receive a warning nor did I breach any site rules, it's just pure censorship. We can't even provide a valid argument without getting censored, somewhat sad to see this.

Nex+ - September 24, 2017, 5:56 am

Na ya'll just mad cause I'm collecting $75 for information you wont read or ever get to see the lights of. Same here man. I got a 20% warning from Mini too ?

The warning was for "low quality" but I know damn well that I brought up good points and put effort into it. Perhaps if I worded it differently it would have stayed but it doesn't change the fact that it was accurate info.

I did not try to come in here and lay down opinionated BS

Wouldn't be the first, it'd be like when people post on marketplace thread wanting to come back to purchase it later but end up changing their mind.

Here is my constructive criticism: This group would be a lot better if Nex+ had nothing to do with it. 10 times better.

To anyone reading, this is my own personal view and opinion. Buy in if you want; that's your own decision. I, however, will not be buying into anything that has Nex+ involved with it due to past run ins. I give this group 1 month before it is closed.

Think very carefully before dealing with users on this site. That goes for any user, no one particular. The help documents states that staff will not get involved. Use your best judgement when making financial decisions regarding groups. Sit back, wait a while, and then consider buying in -- I would wait at least 3 months to see if the group is serious or not. Most groups, MOST, burn out after the first two. Remember that.
