LOL, you need be more specific than that. You can make your own script to include a seedpod in nearly any lure. Have you lured before? How much have you made?

Luring is still a thing nowadays?

Everybody wanna be Cls ProductLol wut? It's 2017, Cls isn't even relevant. People tryna be like lemon lime members and money talk members. It's pathetic. All these new lurers fucking lure people for 20M it pisses me off. Exposing the lure for a mere $20. Not worth it.

Also OP read what I said before:

I mean I can point you in the right direction as I have to other members if you actually want to start luring, but I'm not giving you word for word the script I use...you need to improvise your script from time to time because everyone's different, and different lures with on different people.

But OP is not specific in any way. You can use the seedpod as the "anti" part of the lure in many lures.

I definitely would love to learn and would very much enjoy being put in the right direction, I understand that you don't want to expose your script as it will ruin your own profit. With that being said whenever you have a moment feel free to give me advice and such if you don't mind.

Luring is so much effort. Is the premise still the same?

- Offer someone exclusive membership in a PKing clan
- Go on some runs with them with your buddies waiting to purposely be killed
- Gain trust
- Profit

Wildy lures are not common tbh because take to much time I feel. If you are not luring the person within 20-30 minutes time move on, don't waste time unless you are working on a pre convince then it doesn't matter as long as you got a list of people you are pre'c at the same time. I would do that a lot when I know they have a lot of money and I want to get all of not like 30M of it. Nothing more annoying than fucking lurers exposing the lure for a meezly 20-30M.

What luring methods were you thinking of doing ?
