Thread: Someone Negged Repped Me For A Non-Working AGC, Never Gave Anyone Any AGC

Wompus - September 25, 2017, 3:40 pm

So basically I noticed this morning that someone negative repped me saying that I gave him a non-working AGC and telling people to deal with caution...

However, I have not used any AGC as a form of payment ever and I've never been in contact with the person that left the rep there. I'm pretty certain that this is against the rules as he is calling me a scammer and provides no further proof that is required, as stated by the rules.

Sheeple - September 25, 2017, 3:42 pm

Where in the rep does it say anything like this:

What is reputation abuse?

Reputation abuse can be very complicated subject matter. Here is a list of the following ways reputation can be viewed as abuse.

- Flaming: Using extremely coarse language to describe or berate a member.
- Reputation as a currency: We do not allow the buying or selling of reputations.
- Gang Rep: The act of coordination with other members to raise or lower a member's reputation is not allowed.
- Rep Coercion: Using intimidation, threats, or blackmail to get reps added or removed.
- Rep Requesting: You cannot give hints, tips, or request reputations.
- Scammer Reputation: You're required to leave a link to a Deal Dispute thread you have created to infer someone is a scammer (ie: scammer, scams, chargebacks, scamming). Please note that a Deal Dispute link must be your own thread you've created. It cannot be a thread opened by another member.
- Deal Dispute Linking: We don't allow you to link to a Deal Dispute forum thread that's opened by another member.
- Reputation Collusion: Agreeing to participate in reciprocal reputations with a member.

- The rep he gave me says

"Pi?l (60)Negative (-3): he gave me a AGC which is not working.. dwc"

That's calling me a scammer right? The only problem with what he's saying is that I haven't given anyone AGC except for my last giveaway and he wasn't even involved.

Yes it's weird that he would rep you with that comment when you never dealt with him, but it's not against the rules.

Best thing you can do is just PM him and see what the problem is and if he made a mistake.

Nachfolger - September 25, 2017, 3:44 pm

Did you bother PMing him prior to posting this nonsense?

Can you people not handle your own issues privately?

Outlaw. - September 25, 2017, 3:45 pm

Well you should PM omni but you should also delete this thread, it think is against the rules to post a thread related to reputation, correct me if I'm wrong.

I did send him a PM with no response, hence I came here, waited a few hours.

Pretty sure it is against the rules since he is falsely claiming to be scammed or something without a deal dispute open!

He hasn't been on for a few hours though.. Be patient and check in your tracking log if he read it or not. If he did read it and you got no reply you can assume he did give it intentional.

Still stupid of you to post this. Negs hurt, but they can be solved.

It is against the rules as he was effectively calling him a scammer with no DD link.

Thank you Effexion, I'm just trying to get this solved so I can move on, I'm not publicly shaming the User that did it.

Just checked the Help Documents and you appear to be right.

The example that is the most similar to the one that was given to OP is:

Quote:• took my money and didn't provide service

It's a bit of a grey area but I can see why this could be classified as being against the rules. I guess it's best to wait for Omniscient to read this thread. He will take action if needed.

Well the comment isn't necessarily saying he ever actually accepted a payment method. Call it petty but it's just saying that he received 'AGC that wasn't working', which doesn't really say that it was even involved in a deal.

I think it's too much of a greyarea to judge this.

x2NaTe2x - September 25, 2017, 3:59 pm

You gave him a neutral rep telling people to DWC because he's a multi, he probably got pissy because of that and fake repped you. You should be able to get it removed.

Constantine_XII - September 25, 2017, 5:04 pm

If I had a nickle for every thread about rep I swear to god you would all get two middle fingers and a cloud of dust

HIGHLY recommend you connect with the user who gave you the rep and try to clarify this.

I had a similar incident a few months back.

Had some Vietnamese chick complaining in threads to refund her money.

I thought to myself "What the fuck?" so contacted her.

Turns out she dealt with one of my imposters and got scammed for like $200 in AGC. The moment I heard AGC I knew something was fucked up because I simply do not deal with it at all.

Identical - September 25, 2017, 5:14 pm

Don't destroy yourself by allowing negative people add gibberish and debris to your character, reputation, and aspirations. Keep all dreams alive but discreet, so that those with unhealthy tongues won't have any other option than to infest themselves with their own diseases. This sad individual gave you a negative reputation out of anger, someone who can't control his temper, someone who would cry if he lost a follower on Instagram.

I am not aware of any imposters I may have, I do not think someone would bother impersonating someone with 40 rep ?

Assumptions like that lead to account closures. Why risk it?

Linux™ - September 25, 2017, 6:45 pm

Any reputation that insinuates you dealt with him, and does not include a deal dispute is invalid scam rep. I'd PM'ed minimalist and had this happen to me, yes it is invalid and can be removed, follow the Help Docs and send him a PM containing the message and wait 24 hours then if he sees it and ignores it then PM Omni and it'll get removed.

Transcendent - September 25, 2017, 7:04 pm

I remember about a year ago I gave someone a -3 calling him a scammer with no proof and omni wiped my account clean lost over 400 positive rep.

Wompus - September 25, 2017, 9:44 pm

I have taken the advice of the vast majority of you and have now PM'ed Minimalist, hopefully this gets solved, thanks for your input.

Dang that sucks, I hate that too if someone left something like that & just left without any further response. (Especially if it isn't true), the guy should be banned.

I didn't remember my password to my username, had to create a new one. I'm not a scammer of some sort or trying to make this place a hostile environment. I am as real as you are my friend.
