It just finished, i loved every single chapter of it, the main character was just too good in my opinion. What do you guys think about the anime? Also, i was wondering, will there be a second season?

Who knows...but that ending was good

It was awesome ending, and Ayanokouji finally showed his skills in higher level.

It probably will exist second season but without any announcement yet so it is not sure, I remember when 5 episodes was aired on MAL it was still unknown the number of episodes so I guessing at that moment they decided to make 12 episodes as first season and later to release a second, but this is just a guess.

I read somewhere for a second season at April 2018 but I am not sure if it is legit announcement, damn if it is real I can't wait that long to see the rest episodes :(

On last episode it remind me little of lelouch in Code Geass and got addicted :(

I loved the guy's attitude, however I wished he looked a bit cuter, I don't like his hairstyle.

I want a second season reeeeeeeeeeeeeeee why can't they just make animus a bit faster
