Used legacy aim back when Zlitz was around (don't know the situation now if he's still around HEY FAM BEEN A WHILE xd).

Besides when vuno spread his aids back in the day this cheat was beautiful, nice legit settings, little to no detection rate and this was all when it was up and coming, I'm sure it's had more updates since like 8 months ago when I was using it.

Would like to pop back in and see how it's going :P

Configuration tab and colors are in the next updates.

idalistrades - October 8, 2017, 11:27 pm

I was given a 24-hour vouch copy.

I would like to say this cheat is pretty good was able to use online with no problems.

Nice features I really like the skin changer the most since I don't really have any skins.

Legitbot: 9.2/10

Very easy to use aimbot with high configuration settings. It has a mode called "Silent aim" as well.

Visuals: 9/10

I really love the minimalist style of this cheat visually appealing to the eye.

Community: 9.3/10

When I had a problem with Legacyaim there were support and members to help through my problems.

Issues: 8.9/10

Nothing is perfect not really any issues aside from crashes sometimes and configuration not saving but remember it's still in beta.

Ragebot: 9/10

I didn't really use Ragebot but it definitely looked like a nice feature.

Overall Rating: 9.2/10

With alot of cheats on the market these days a lot of the cheats use "pastes" or source codes of of other cheats. What I love about Legacyaim it will was coded from scratch.

I would recommend buying this cheat if you are looking for something that will not let you down.

Stop using laggy web interfaces to toggle your cheat, start using a fully featured in-game menu that you can design to fit your exact needs and style. No one wants to have to back out of their game or look at another device to toggle your cheat features, this is simply not efficient enough.

Zlitz - March 23, 2018, 2:06 pm

Dear Community,

We are very happy to announce that LegacyCore, the recode will be out in 7 days time! We may pick some of the most active community members during the 7 period of this post to beta test our recode and post some feedback for us. Allowing a couple of users to beta test the cheat for us means they could find issues we couldn't, in result making sure our new product is perfect and bug free. We hope to hear back from the beta users to find and resolve any other problems that may occur.

The final few days we will be updating the Journey system with all the new features that are being added. We will be publicly showcasing the entire product through our social media platforms so subscribe to us on Youtube.

If you haven't been apart of LegacyAim in a while and are unsure what has been going on in the past few months, then I'd recommend reading some of our latest posts too get back up to speed.

The LegacyCore recode will officially go live and will replace our current core in 7 days time. We hope to see new Testimonials of our product once it's out. Thank you for everything guys, putting up with the soontms and co.. we appreciate ya!

Reminder: Once LegacyCore(recode) is released you will have 7 days to gain the "DAY0" rank. Then after that there is no other way to obtain the limited edition community rank.

A thread update will be out soon with the latest images and information. Until then please sign up to our website for more information.

Understanding this is a legit cheat, but with those rounds where the other team is cheating hard and for your own ego sake you want to toggle up.

Using the fastest speed for aimbot is it known to cause bans? Because I don't have many accounts to test on the safety of raging but would like to see a demo of someone using the most blatant setting if possible. I know this is a lot to ask for but thats my biggest factor atm

Well overwatch is a thing, and would mostlikely be the one that gets you. But honestly we are a legit cheat therefore I can't suggest you use us for raging or "toggle up"

"Aimbot:

I originally purchased this because I wanted to see how "legit" the aimbot could possibly be. Needless to say, I am very impressed by the humanization of the aimbot and customization down to the decimal. This aimbot is the most legit looking I've seen in years of playing CSGO."

I remember back when you sold the cheat under the Zlitz name. Back in the days when Vuno was the coder.

I was a mod over there. Was fun. Until you banned me because you said I was leaking stuff to Vuno after you kicked him out.

EDIT: I had never reached back out to Zlitz about what happened back then. It was a huge misunderstanding by the both of us.

Zlitz has given me a free subscription of their cheat. The quality is outstanding and on par with my private coded cheat.

We didn't hide anything? We have many users using our cheat everyday, the reports where insufficient to class this as a detection. We are thinking of other ways to check, as I will say voting "banned" isn't all that efficient. Our staff members use the cheat almost everyday, we aren't banned as well as many other paying customers who play with us from time to time are also not banned.

A couple of reports is not enough to class our whole project as detected. Considering 99% of our userbase was not affected.

I will say how it is; legacyaim is an okay cheat, confusing in some areas but mostly good. What is not good is the history behind the "coders" that were hired years ago and delivered an unbelievably shitty product and would go so far as to call it a straight up cash-grab scam. I think when you review something you should talk about as a whole, I believe the owner is nice who has good intentions to build a nice community but has made plentiful mistakes over the years but it seems to be in a good state now. The cheat is like any other legit cheat on the market really as it's all preference nowadays.

BUT with this introduction of a new hvh cheat, like what I saw tried to happen with zlitzforum (or whatever it was called) few years ago I think it will start to go very down hill once again, just my thoughts.

Since 2013, not only has legacyaim evolved but so has myself. We all grow and make plenty of mistakes, but it's about making them mistakes right and correcting where you went wrong. Regarding the hvh cheat, it's invite only so not many users will be using it so what does it matter? Just because we are adding some extra functions to a great cheat will make us go downhill?
