And then there's Judge Dredd. Guy would fuck your entire forum account right up if you even looked at his posts wrong ?

Edit: Looking at the list again, I remember each and every one of them in my time here. I wonder how they are all doing.

Dang. I had forgotten so many names. But I recognized like half of that list. I remember VipVince was really active in the innuendo section.

This thread was really nostalgic even though I mostly read threads even back in the day. I wish I wasn't actually so much of a lurker and posted more. Because I remember most old timers but they probably have no clue who I am.

That was me. I was also Staff back in 2011 when I was working on TheBoyWhoLived. It was a Harry Potter fan forum and another member had asked me to help them customize it with some plugin work.
