That's like the worst possible place to decide to bring a gun to and try to shoot people lol. That and a gun range.

Should be in the News and Happenings section

But damn hopefully this was a false alarm and there is no active shooter. Some idiot may have called in a false report possibly but that would honestly be one of the better situations.

Cadets don't carry though, most likely secfo(cops) are the only armed personal on campus.
