Thread: Best way to make money with 99 fletching/84 wc?

Katsuki - September 30, 2017, 1:55 pm

I'm looking to get back into the game and managed to find one of my older accounts. I don't wish to continue this account but rather start a new one. With my current stats:

What are some ways I can make money (P2P)? I'm open to botting on this account if it makes it easier, I don't really care about this account haha.

You could sell it and buy gold

I would carry on with slayer or something.

Get your defence up to 70.

I've thought of that, but I'm not entirely sure the pricing for accounts anymore, so I wouldn't know where to start exactly. What do you think I can get for this?

Would it be worth the time? I mean I can bot it on the side while training my other account.

You could look on Scythe or something and see what people are generally selling 99 fletching accounts for, and then just add off that. You have a high strength level and high woodcutting. I don't know exact pricing either, but I think you could get some decent money for this.

neither of those skills are very good for botting for gold.

You may as well just bot woodcutting or something then. Probably more of a hassle though.
