Thread: Any Music Stations for Anime Lovers?

xShadowAlk - October 1, 2017, 10:17 am

Currently I've only been listening to Nightcore on Pandora. Does anyone know of any other good places to listen to some music that anime lovers would enjoy?

listen.moe

You could like that site, just a radio sort of thing.

Too much garbage on radio stations, why not just collect any songs you liked from watching anime?

They are easy to acquire from sites like www.gendou.com, or nipponsei. Can also rip from youtube.

Only 92 songs?

I thought you were better then that.

I usually just look up an opening or OST I like then use YouTube's automatic playlist thing on the side. That gives you 50 songs to scroll through and see if you like any.

Honest answer: just watch more anime literally every japanese band makes their OST maybe 1% don't
