I would sell it for a little more tho :P

Thanks man! Yeah it took me some time haha! I feel $20 is a good price for this one. If it would be bigger and more animations ofc the price would be higher.

Don't buy this.

He originally made it for me, but lied to me and said he deleted his programs.

You are very ungrateful!

We made a deal, and you made a excuse to get out of it. AKA scamming.

Haha sorry man, but that's not scamming. Please do not falsely accuse someone of scamming, it's not taken very lightly here.

He has every right to sell his thread design to anyone he wishes to since you never paid for it.

Nice job! Good luck with selling, only thing that looks out of place is the font in the first description area - which can easily be changed anyway.

He agreed to getting the program in return for the design, before he started working on it. which means it was a deal, and he broke it.

Still, that's not scamming. Unless you sent him the program of course, but from what I understand, he dropped out before the payment for the graphics was done.

Scamming would be if you sent him the program, and he later chooses not to design the thread design for you and he still keeps the program.

It was a deal gone bad, but that doesn't mean that he scammed you. Unless you sent him money and he refuses to refund, then im sorry, but you're talking out of your arse.

The thing is that i did tell him that my computer crashed and i told him that and that he should continue with another designer. He was cool with it, the other day i desided to install my programs again after a reset and did this thread design when i was bored.

He states that i made him THIS thread design and its not true. He haven't paid me anything and i was kind in the first place that i even offered myself.

I have reported him for Invalid Scammer reputation anyways.

This is a really nice animated thread design mate.

Hope you sell it soon.

Don't be salty because he never followed through on an exchange - you haven't lost a thing, and if anything, OP has with attempting it for you.

Regardless, looks nice. Your key framing is pretty nice, all done with graph work or plugins?
