People can change the names whenever they want, can you share his HF profile?

You're probably talking about this guy -

I've dealt with him, I can't vouch straight away either way cause it was 1 trade. Also there's a high risk of someone trying to impersonate him, so make sure to confirm via PM, if he's banned wait until he's unbanned.

Corrupt is cool af. I'd highly suggest you get PM confirmation or give me his Discord ID as I know him on Discord as well.

You might be talking about XcorruptX. Some people like to impersonate other people for money reasons. If it's completely someone else, just make sure you know who they are on the forum.

Honestly, it shouldn't matter.

Always initiate and/or confirm deals on site before making a transaction. Then you don't have to worry about those problems.
